

In odd moments I'm still going over copies of the NO files. This relates to

NO 100-16601-1977

Third Man

Ca. Lit Dist.

Greek Restaurant (Greek Club?)

Great Penn. And possibly one Farlow McGurley, aka Madear.

Penn owned one of the two Greek restaurants in this general area at that time. His was at the end of the block of Decatur away from Canal or just across Iberville, the next street, also on that side of Decatur.

I just noticed my error, this was on Canal. I knew of no Greek restaurant there.

However, there is another report I read in which it is reported that without any arrests there had been an Oswald fracas near the Habana. Penn never told me of that, if it happened.

I think the reference is to Ibara, the Japanese, who appears to have been a homosexual. The Penn Greek restaurant was patronized largely by homosexuals and women on the roof. Penn had no prejudice. A homosexual did some really fine murals for that place. Penn introduced me to him. He seemed to be a good person but edgy over Shaw.

In any event, I'm not wrong about this person picking out a third man or reporting one. I have such a file under the Lit. Dist. What Jesse Carr told me about this does not appear in any of the FBI reports I've seen, which is remarkable.

The FBI was well aware of this third man. But in the checking relating to the picketing only those agents not deeply involved in the case made any mention of him. The FBI never prepared anything like a separate report on this, which I also regard as remarkable.

You may recall my telling you that I saw says he was in the Rmt/WDSU footage, that he and Ed Flamer, then WDSU news director saw this on the Mavicola as soon as Oswald was identified, and that it disappeared when the FBI returned the footage it borrowed. Flamer confirmed this to me.

Odd. There has to be a separate file on this. There was nothing along this line in the NO FO files. I've gone over those provided if not all the copies I made.
