

Dennis MacDonald
188 Milford St.,
Manchester, NH 03102

2/10/96

Dear Dennis,

The Hood student from the Barbados is into the 13th chapter of the Mailer book. I've gone over and corrected all she has done and have it in a labelled box.

The student from Kenya, Carol Getacha, has a computer problem. I learned that ~~two~~ days ago but forgot to ask her what I've given her. I ~~learned~~ ^{learned} that this morning. It was the add to the Newman book. It is in her computer but for some reason cannot get it out. She says ~~she~~ she'll see on Monday if the people at Hood can help her. If she gets that straightened out and has the printout I'll give her the adds to Waketh I've already copied. If there is a delay on that it may be better to give that to Reena Amin, who is from India. She is not at Hood this year. From her address she seems to be closest to American U. She is a friend of Michelle Vicira, from the Barbados.

What I have in mind, if Carol can procede fairly promptly, is that you might like to get rid of the ~~xxxx~~Brown ms. She could do that ^{separately}.

The man who is supposed to be retyping the Hosty ms. called yesterday with a question that, in retrospect, tells me that despite my chewing him out Thursday morning he persists in thinkin of himself as an editor. For the little he has done he has charged twice as much time as Michelle did for not ~~more~~ more than half what she did. And it will cost more to get rid of all he did that should not have been done, including simple errors in punctuation on which he has some kind of hangup.

He is an nice guy but I won't use him any more.

I'm continuing to highlight the Groden farce and I've written the first chapter of "Honorable Men", what I started when the former commission counsels so described themselves after the attention to the Stone move, JFK.

There is some overlapping in what I've added to Waketh and to Newman ~~in~~ and I want to get those things to you(pl) as soon as possible.

Best,
Harold