Mr. Roger Langley
The National Star
National Press Bldg.
Wash, D.C.

Dear Roger,

When I phoned two days ago and you were not in my purpose was to tell you that I had heard, whether or not accurately, that a book I know to be a fraud had been or was being offered to the Star.

If this is true I know something about this book, what lies behind it and its contents.

There are some frauds that may appear to be harmless. In my opinion this is not one of them.

In fact, I believe that if and when this material is published there will be suits filed. I believe there is little successful defense possible but that even if there were the cost would be considerable.

The subject has always been a great temptation to editors, an alleged confession in the JFK assassination.

I know you may have been away or too busy to respond so I take this time in recognition of and repayment of your personal kindnesses of the past.

It is an act against interest because were this stuff to be published it could be of value to me and to my work.

Best regards,

Harold Weisberg
