

Dear Ms. Meyerowitz,

11/14/00

Please excuse even the typing of the enclosed critique of Luker and his ignorant and hasty libels and other lies. Better is not now possible for me. I've had more medical problems and a fever and as I told you, I'm 87.

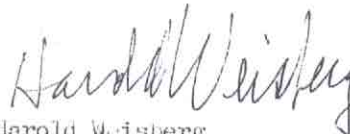

as I also told you my work in recent years has been the making of a record for history that is accurate.

It is for that purpose that I've written more than can be used as a response. But I hope you'll read it and learn from it. While it is rough and needs editing, it is factual. As the Lukers and the Kurtzes rarely are.

Kurtz did two books and I have a book-length manuscript on each. It is not easy to believe that a college professor would be as steadfastly ignorant of the fact of such an important event in history and then be stupid enough to present himself as an unquestionable subject-matter expert.

I hope you people will rethink your position that your Journal cannot be so easily used for propaganda, for hurt to those someself-important ignoramus does not like and so that it cannot be misused to corrupt and lie about our precious history.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
