Dear Sir:

In reference to your letter of August 5, 1968, this is to advise you at this time that I do not have anything additional in the way of background that would be of any interest to you other than the transcript that you received from Mr. Fensterwald. The transcript you received is in its entirety with no omissions. We have no pictures.

For Col. W. E. Headley, Chief of Police:

Very truly yours,

Sgt. Everett Kay

Dear Et. Kaye,

Bernard Fensterwald has sent me the copy of the tape transcription, for which I thank you.

Since writing you I have learned a number of things, including that your informant also met Wilteer at the Jacksonville Railroad Station November 23, 1963.

I would really appreciate everything you can properly let me have on this entire matter, for this time I would like to include everything possible. I have much of the material the federal government suppressed and I have already included that, for the work is written and is now being retyped. If there is anything by way of background that you can add, that also would be helpful. I would like to say something aside from generalities by way of praise for fine public service that I think is your due and also might encourage others to do likewise.

Particularly pictures.

Do you have anything on Brown? I have the little federal material and something from Memphis that might be shockingly relevant.

Is what Fensterwald ^{sent} complete as it was taped or have you for your own reasons eliminated some? Are there any pictures of the apartment?

Again both my thanks and my congratulations.

Sincerely yours,

Herold Weisberg
