POLITICS

State of Illinois Center, Chicago, April 1-4, 1993

There is cause for hope as we approach the 30th anniversary of the assassination of John F. Kennedy, and the 25th anniversaries of the murders of Robert F. Kennedy and Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. The eventual release of the JFK records from the 1979 House Select Committee on Assassinations hearings is now a certainty, and for the first time in twelve years, we'll have a White House Administration that should be sympathetic to our cause.

Now that George Bush has signed the JFK records legislation, he has until January 20 to appoint a 5-member review board to screen the HSCA documents for release. His appointments must then be submitted to the Senate for confirmation. If the Senate fails to ratify his recommendations, he'll have 30 days to propose a revised list of appointees.

In any event, the release of this information should begin sometime in 1993. This, and a favorable political climate could lay the groundwork for another official inquiry into the case. Vice President Albert Gore is already on record as saying he believes JFK was murdered as a result of a conspiracy, and consequently, has also supported the release of the HSCA files.

A more favorable political climate should also breathe new life into the Robert Kennedy case. Perhaps sensing this, a group of former law enforcement officials, politicians, and celebrities earlier this year called for a grand jury investigation into alleged willful misconduct by the Los Angeles Police Department in the handling of the investigation into the murder of RFK. Thwarted by election year politics in late '79 and '80, the inquiry into the murder of Dr. King also stands to be renewed, given some funding and grass roots support.

On the other hand, we seemed to be mired in "a revival of assassination lore." Oliver Stone's movie "JFK" has injected new life into the assassination argument, apparently at the expense of our political awareness. As we enjoyed renewed debate in the wake of the movie, the House and Senate Committees drafting the JFK Records Legislation Act were busy building clauses into the bill which

Dear Friend,

Good news. As some of you may know, there have been a number of promising developments since the conference in Dallas last October. George Bush signed the JFK Records Legislation Act into law on October 27th, and the favorable political climate we've lacked for the past twelve years should become a reality in 1993 with the start of the Clinton-Gore Administration - Albert Gore has been very outspoken on the JFK case.

In addition, the Assassination Archives and Research Center, in association with the Inquiry and Accountability Foundation and the Global Committee Commemorating King Days of Respect will also be sponsoring the second annual Midwest Symposium on Assassination Politics next April 1-4 in Chicago. Sunday, April 4, will be the 25th anniversary of the assassination Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

This event will feature lectures, panel discussions, and debates on the current status, prospects and political strategies for renewing the JFK, RFK, and MLK cases. We'll also be having a reception and dinner on Saturday evening, April 3.

Among our guest participants will be:

- Five former staff members of the 1979 House Select Committee on Assassinations - Ed Lopez, Robert Tanenbaum, Gaeton Fonzi, Andy Purdy, and Michael Goldsmith.
- Former Warren Commission assistant counsel Burt Griffin, who investigated Jack Ruby's activities.
- Authors Anthony Summers (in from Ireland), Josiah Thompson, Robert Morrow, Peter Dale Scott, and Philip Melanson, and researchers Jim Lesar and Paul Hoch.

More good news. To make this event as affordable as possible, the Bismarck Hotel has agreed to set aside a large block of rooms for our attendees at discounted rates. Single occupancy rooms will be only $58/night, double occupancy rooms will be $69/night, and triples will be $80/night.

The back page of the enclosed conference preview will explain how the proceeds from this event will be used. Those of you who choose to register will receive a conference packet that includes an 8-page program, a name badge, and other relevant material.

Thanks for your interest.

Sincerely,

Douglas G. Carlson
Director, Planning Committee

may eventually limit the prospects for full and prompt disclosure of assassination records . . . without any significant threat of organized political opposition from the independent research community.

Sunday, April 4, 1993 will be the 25th anniversary of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

At a time of renewed interest in the political violence of the 60's, this conference is an attempt to broaden the traditional assassination argument to include a review of the political means we must all work within to further our cause. A cause that must constantly battle assassination politics: the governmental, economic, cultural and media influences which shape the conduct and confusions of public and private inquiries into major acts of political violence.

The Proceeds from this event will be donated to the Assassination Archives and Research Center (AARC), the Inquiry and Accountability Foundation (IAF), and the Global Committee Commemorating (Martin Luther) King Days of Respect (GCCCKDR). The AARC will need money for administrative help to review, index, duplicate, and store 1-2 million pages of information that was not included in the HSCA's final published report.

The proceeds will also be used to fund investigative research and legal initiatives into the murder of Robert F. Kennedy in hope of prompting an official reopening of the case. The IAF needs money to monitor an LA grand jury as it conducts its investigation, obtain affidavits from new witnesses, apply the latest technology to ballistics and acoustical tests, and find the mystery man thought to be a second gunman at the scene of RFK's murder. The GCCCKDR will use their share to fund outreach and literary projects, civil rights activities, cultural workshops and historic observances.
