

Dear Bill,

5/23/97

Glad there was nothing worse than a speeding ticket!

I imagine that despite the problems and what was in the back of your mind just getting away for a while did you good!

I've never met Oakes but I think that some time ago we exchanged a few letters. Am not clear and could be wrong .

We are about as we were, thanks. I'm perhaps more tired, more feeble. I'm taking it easier but I'm still writing. Have the rough draft of another book almost completed but not read and ~~corrected~~ corrected. More than the usual mistakes now, as this shows.

It is on the despicable article a member of the ARRB wrote for the Maryland Law Review. They'll be a bit surprised to get a book in response.

What can happen did a school order copies of Whitewash, the first book, and we are now down to seven copies. So, yes indeed, when it is possible we can use more. And will appreciate them much!!!

That is a remarkable arch! I've seen pictures of it and they are impressive.

Hope you found everything in order with no big problems when you got back and that there is no accumulation to give you more to do.

Harry Livingstone published the book by Madeleine Brown who says she was LBJ's mistress. I read it. Complete waste of time unless you want low-grade porn. She claims he told her in advance the assassination was coming and if he had known that was the last thing he would have done, mentioned it.

It is all crap about the assassination, what she made up, what she picked up, and that is what Livingstone loves because he used her in his Killing the Truth, which is what he did.

When I expressed an interest and had questions that lunthead had someone call me from his phone and warn me that a b-i-i-i-egg suit was being prepared against me. He has also issued threats against others. Crazy stuff done like an amateur. I heard they had a book signing party for her at the conspiracy museum and not a person showed up for it.

Glad your trip went well,

Best to you all,
