Dear Mr. Nichols:

Harold has asked that I send you a note about his plans for attending the golden anniversary reunion of your high school class.

Unfortunately, he will be unable to attend. He was again admitted to the hospital on Monday night last where he underwent further surgery which will drastically curtail his activities for quite some time to come. I do not anticipate his release from hospital another week at the minimum and he will be unable to make such a trip that soon after his return home.

He has been looking forward to seeing some of his old classmates after all these years and is unhappy about having to cancel. He does appreciate your offer of transportation to and from the affair and very much regrets he can't take advantage of it.

We both hope the celebration is a success, and he will be there in spirit even though not in the flesh!

Sincerely,

Lillian Weisberg
