Dear Mr. Weisberg:

This is in further reply to your Freedom of Information Act appeal dated January 3, 1976, of certain Warren Commission and related records which were denied to you on July 31, 1975, by Albert H. Leisinger, Jr., Acting Assistant Archivist for the National Archives.

Although most of the material you have requested can be made available to you, small portions of some documents must remain restricted to public access.

Denials specified in this response to your appeal are based on the following exemptions to mandatory disclosure of the Freedom of Information Act as matters which are: (1)(A) specifically authorized under criteria established by an Executive order to be kept secret in the interest of national defense or foreign policy and (B) are in fact properly classified pursuant to such Executive order; (3) specifically exempted from disclosure by statute; (5) inter-agency or intra-agency memorandums or letters which would not be available by law to a party other than an agency in litigation with the agency; (6) personnel and medical files and similar files the disclosure of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy; and, (7) investigatory records compiled for law enforcement purposes, but only to the extent that the production of such records would . . . (C) constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy, (D) disclose the identity of a confidential source and, in the case of a record compiled by a criminal law enforcement authority in the course of a criminal investigation, or by an agency conducting a lawful national security intelligence investigation, confidential information furnished only by the confidential source. Material which is denied to you under 5 U.S.C. 552(b)(1) has been reviewed by the Central Intelligence Agency and remains security classified at the request of Mr. Gene Wilson, Information and Privacy Coordinator of that agency.
