In the Nevember issue of Medical Times Dr. John K. Lattimer, the unelegist you elchemized into a "pathologist" or "other expert," claims that you let him make tests on the clothing of the late President Kennedy.

His exact words on page 41 are, "This has been tested on President Kennedy's criginal [sic] shirt by one of us." The feetnete chatation identifies the urelegist you converted into a pathologist as this "one of us." (page 55)

I write to ask that you reconcile this claim, which I have no reason to doubt, with your representations to us and what I regard as of nore significance, your representations to Judge Gesell in C.A. 2569-70 as well as those rade on your behalf by others.

Now why do I not doubt your personally-relacted expert? -conuce of all the new expertise he establishes for himself in this single article:

On "rubber or homemeat" (p. 42); On metien and the new physics as cited-

Travelling at some 2,000 feet per second a bullet eid "assume an almost sideways position" (p.44); after which it was "now travelling partially backwards" (p. 44)

"travelling sideways, as well as somewhat backwards" (p. 44)

"travelling almost entirely lackwards" (p. 45) (his cuphasis)

"goin, backwards" (p. 45).

I do her you can agree that when one can with one fell article can do this with damage to Webster and Newton simultaneously and at the same time enjoys the exceptional confidence you imparted in him, his word can't be doubted.

So, because of your representations of fact to Judge Gesell I am asking how come you let Dr. Lattimer "make tests on the clothing of the late President Kennedy."

In previous correspondence you have sought to justify delays in response that violate the regulations you are supposed to observe by claiming that it is because you anticipate I will file lausuits. In this case, the lausuit was filed and care to an and four years ago.

For be it from no to suggest that lawyers should not be consulted about representations made under oath to a federal judge. I don't. But I do believe that when this is a soit you can't anticipiate I'll file and they also have no reason to suspect I will, the compliance with your regulations might easily be speeded up by a nonth or so.

Particularly in the light of the most recent expression of the Congress and the vehence with which it was expressed.
