Dear Mr. Webb,

I gather from Hayden that you made a negative recommendation.

This is much in the interest of the paper and the owner.

The truth is much worse than I was able to convey by phone.

There is more of this kind of terrible stuff kicking around. Don't be tempted. Or, consult me.

What is disturbing is that so much of it has surfaced simultaneously.

It is not easy to attribute it all to self-seekers, nuts and the dedicated wrong-headed.

As I've indicated, I think there can be quite a sensational series exposing them.

The cost of the authorized phone calls is approximately $12.00.

I'll be surprised if some of your competition doesn't go for either this rubbish or what is as bad that is now plentiful. I believe the best way to meet the competition is to have fun by proving all that stuff is just poor inventions, each with a self-destruct built in.

Some can hold danger of costs suits, too.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
