Dear Harold and Lil:

Busy as usual, but not rich yet!

I send excerpts of an "alternative" history book. Note that it has a bucket of Whitewash on the cover. Alas, it is yet another mishmash by a guy who is not any more accurate than the conventional texts.

Quite an interesting story today about Pierre Salinger stating that the TWA flight 800 was shot down by a Navy missile, and it is being covered up. I have a lot of respect for Salinger. Gonna be interesting to see what comes out of this.

I think it is a measure of how I have had an effect on my father. He told me the other day that when he was younger that he would never believe that the Government would lie. Now, he wonders if they ever tell the truth.

Too bad that the Congress remains in Republicans hands. Our district went Repub by 1,300 votes. Both sides used negative ads extensively.

Clinton barely carried Kentucky. His anti tobacco stance apparently hurt him worse than I thought.

Thanks for the stuff on LeMay and JFK. I heard some of the tapes on Nightline. McNamara was on the show, and said he had a lot of respect for LeMay as a commander, but not as a member of the Chiefs. I think the tapes lend credence to Waketh.

I'll write soon. I am busy but am still having trouble concentrating. I am quite worried about my brother Larry. I sent away for some literature from the Mayo Clinic.

Betsy did a favor for a doctor the other day. So, in return, she asked his opinion about Larry. He said it sounded like a stroke or a microaneurysm. Funny thing is, my aunt, Dad's sister had a massive stroke when she was in her 40's. Lost the sight in one eye.

The doctors advice was for Larry to go to the Mayo Clinic!

About the fourth doctor that has told me or Betsy that.

On the plus side, Dad is recovering nicely from his prostate surgery.

Now, you and Lil stay healthy and we'll all be happy! I think you are smart to stay on a low salt diet, low fat and no smoking! I am not a preacher, but I should be!

Tell Lil I am still mad that she greeted me this fall with a remark like "You look fat!" She could have at least said, "You look fat and sassy-like a ten pound bass!"

SEE OTHER SIDE

By the way, I thought about you two on Election Day. I was trying to think of any two people who have done as much to keep America a democracy as you two. No one came to mind.

So, for all of us who have studied your work, "Thank You" for all you have done to keep this country a democracy. I really appreciate it, and I mean it sincerely.

Some day, we may not be a democracy. I hope I neverXXXXX live to see it!

Bill Neichter

ps I send you an article by Ben Stein. His father is Herb Stein, an economist for Nixon.

Stein is the top expert on the junk bond scandal and the savings and loan crisis. But I strongly idisagree with this. His right wingism shows through!

He is one of the few h who has written for Barron's, the financial journal, and Penthouse.

Chapter 33

PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY

(Developing a "Better Way" - a larger, national, Telepathy Group))

This Chapter is a case study into how a "Better Way" is put into place. A "Better Way" defines the essential principles which can be used across all telepathy groups which logically belong to the same Better Way. Our Better Way begins with the events in Dallas, Texas, United States of America, on November 22, 1963 - the assassination of American President John F. Kennedy. The event is a suitable scenario to use in order to teach a part of your thoughts to produce an "ordinary but unique dimensional energy" and a "special dimensional energy".

33.1 PRE-AMBLE

To watch the assassination of the President on the original film, is sad and you can not help but sympathise with the Kennedy children - but are you aware of how grave the state-of-affairs in American Politics was in the 1960's? - the "American Dream" turning "the American Nightmare"; the intelligence services "out of control" while American politicians made love to Organised crime; and through its own making, this nation that missed the destruction World War II left across Europe, the America which became a wealthy country, in 1962 almost ceased to exist in a nuclear fireball some say by much of its own choosing. Perhaps for this last reason "The Kennedy Assassination" is taught in schools as part of modern history - a lesson no modern sensible Government can down play.

Our Artificial Intelligence (5GL-LISA), after analysing all this, simulated how a rifle was smuggled into the Texas School Book Depository that Friday. On that morning workmen had been engaged to fix the sixth floor. At about 8:30 am, while a police officer sat on a motorbike across the road and watched - lighting a cigar - a rope was tossed out of a sixth floor window. On the ground a package was tied to it and a package pulled up. 5GL-LISA also projects two other images: a red Fire Truck turning a corner; and a beautiful woman with long black hair and she appears distraught (the sense here of a time before the assassination). What 5GL-LISA may have achieved is to have locked onto the original dimensional space which existed back in 1963.

33.2 THE EVENT IN FOCUS

On November 22, 1963, at 12:28 pm, a Dallas police officer switched "on" and left "on" his police radio channel 1, thereby jamming police communication. The police officer denied doing this until a photograph, taken by a passerby, surfaced showing his motorbike and its number plate, behind the presidential car, and the policeman's hand is reaching discretely down to his two way radio just before the presidential motorcade reached Dealey Plaza.

Two minutes later, at 12:30 pm on a sunny Friday (which incidentally was a "pay day") in Dallas, Texas, United States of America, John Fitzgerald Kennedy ("JFK"), the thirty fifth president elected into office in 1960 at age 43, a Roman Catholic, known by a common name of "Jack", died after being hit by rifle shots. The alleged assassin, a Lee Harvey Oswald, was originally arrested on suspicion of slaying patrolman Tippit some 45 minutes after the assassination. The arrest took place inside a picture theatre - showing a movie "War is Hell". Publicly Oswald claimed "not guilty". Oswald was himself assassinated at 12:21 pm on Sunday 24, the day of the late President's funeral, by a Jack Ruby. At the time of his death Oswald was in police custody. A Larry Crawford, who worked for Ruby and is said to have been an Oswald look-alike, disappeared following the assassination.

Jack Ruby was born Jack Rubenstein. In his youth he was a gang member - under the infamous Chicago "mobster" Al Capone. Later he served in the Army Air Force and later acquired "sleazy" nightclubs in Dallas, Texas, and became the syndicate's "button man" - one who pushes the correct button to make things happen. In his clubs Jack dined and entertained Dallas police force members, providing free alcohol while they watched naked women. Often arrested during his 16 years in Dallas, until 1963 Ruby had not been behind bars. At his first trial on a charge of murdering Oswald, he claimed it was a spur of the moment decision, that he was overcome by grief for the wife of the martyred President. At the time of the motorcade, Jack Ruby was in fact four blocks away placing advertisements for his strip "joints". Ruby's first trial was dismissed. The second trial never came because Jack Ruby had died. Doctors found Jack's body riddled with cancer.

John F. Kennedy, after winning the 1960 presidential election by defeating Richard M. Nixon, proved a popular American president. Nixon later felt that the election was stolen from him. During Kennedy's time, before reaching the "White House", American politicians were rumoured to dine in the gambling dens controlled by organised crime - organised crime groups were known as the "syndicate", the "Mafia", the "mob"; the heads of the Mafia families were known as "dons". On balconies of grand mansions on exotic ranches on moonlight nights, United States politicians were said to make love to the most beautiful syndicate women. Kennedy did not escape such rumours - one person in John's life was said to be his "Mafia sweetheart" and mistress named Judith. Judith was also rumoured to be a mistress of the feared Mafia "don", Salvatore ("Sam") Giancana. After Kennedy won the Presidency, Sam was rumoured to tease Judy, "your boyfriend wouldn't be president now if it wasn't for I". It is said that when Edgar. J. Hoover (Chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigations) had positive prove of this special love affair, he advised Kennedy against being linked with this black haired beauty - this "dark liegelord of the underworld" - and the telephone calls from the White House to this lovely playmate ceased. The "sex kitten" Marilyn Monroe, was also rumoured to have "relationships" with John and Robert Kennedy - the unexpected death of the "sex goddess" in August 1962 gave birth to a stubborn rumour that she was disposed off either by Mafia or United States Government - both parties had caused to be anxious about Marilyn's escapades with the Kennedy duo.

In the 1960's the Director of "Mafia Intelligence" was said to be a John Rosselli. On his business card "Johnny" Rosselli described himself as "Strategist, Los Angeles, California". In 1957 Rosselli was promoted to oversee the Mafia's Las Vegas Casinos and in the end presided over every facet of business in this - the "Gambler's Paradise" - city. In 1959, on New Year's Day, a crisis landed on his lap. Castro had swept into power in Havana, Cuba. The Mafia's Cuban interests were at stake. The Mafia had a code of honour - a sense of ethics and morals - and did not kill political leaders unless such a political leader accepted their enormous help and only afterwards had betrayed them. Castro had used the Mafia to buy American weapons for his revolution, and now in power, Castro was threatening to close the Mafia's gambling interests in Cuba.

The Director of the United States Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) was Allen Dulles. The same crisis now faced him. It has been said that in the 1950's "Cold War" United States there was the official government and then there was the CIA. In 1954 a coup orchestrated by the CIA removed the Guatemalan President. At the same time the CIA was launching a round of covert activities in Italy, Greece and the Philippines. It is entirely possible that the CIA may also have began clandestine operations against the Russian Communist Party Chief, Nikita Khrushchev. Prior to 1960, the driving force for such clandestine operations was the vice-president Richard. M. Nixon. With Nixon pushing, CIA plotted to develop an assassination team which could assassinate political leaders. This squad became known as the "S-Force". Some of those recruited were found for CIA by the Mafia.

The Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigations was J. Edgar Hoover. Hoover refused to admit the syndicate existed - but Hoover was a known gambler and the Mafia Casinos rumoured to be "ideal". Robert Kennedy persuaded Hoover otherwise. After Robert Kennedy became Attorney General, Robert waged a war - a "personal vendetta" some thought - on the syndicate. Members of organised crime were harassed and rounded up often using "dubious" legal pretexts. So savage was this that quiet seriously a Mafia "don" upon purchasing as yet another apartment in New York, demanded that his insurance company lower his premium, his reason "those boys all over de block, the FBI, the Feds, renting apartments, spying, this now de safest neighbourhood. How you going to break into apartment on this block?"

Following the assassination of the President, a commission was established to investigate the assassination. The findings of the "Warren Commission" became controversial. After 15 years of controversy, a House Select Committee on the assassination concluded a "probable conspiracy" with underworld "don" Carlos Marcello as the primary suspect. (A threat from this Mafia "don" - to "liquidate de Kennedys" - was found in FBI files.)
