

WILLIAM L. NEICHTER
ATTORNEY AT LAW
1313 LYNDON LANE
SUITE 115
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY 40222
(502) 429-0266

May 28, 1997

Dear Harold:

They let me use the typewriter! Jan went home and I can goof off and write you a letter.

My father is much better. His original prostate operation was about 10 years ago. Redo is a term used in the tractor business when we fix something and we have to redo it!

Thank you for your kind words about Waketh to Dal McGuirk. I have his address nad the Waketh disk. I may just go ahead and send it to him.

I'll also tell him if he can't get it to print out, I can send him my extra copy.

I enclsloe and article on Ralph Beard; one t~~h~~ k k of the victims of the gambling scandals at UK many years ago. Beard was part owner of the Indy pro team- they made him sell his interest and that perhaps cost him $25 million. If he had kept the team, he would be wealthy today. All for seven hundred dollars. Beard I believe denies he ever shaved points. McKnight and I talked about this a little. Please give him the article.

I see Beard in front of my office occasionally, he uses this bank. He is still a hero in this state.

I also enclose an article about a high school classin an Indy suburb. I shall write them alettter.

Drove to Indy three times this weekend, finally got to see the race. Rain. Those cars just fascinate me. They have slowed them down, the y only do 215 now. Last year, one car averaged 237 over the 2 1/2 mile flat track.

I have to attend a deposition and I have no interest. Must do it.

Since you have been using printed labels, I enclose one for you.

I think you might be surprised what new locks and an alarm sticker would do. Make them think twice. Pros can't be stopped. But they can be discouraged. I find the whole thing deeply disturbing. While Lil and I agree that some things over the years may be misplaced, you certainly know what is in your office. Because you have up-braided me when I misplace it!

Dont you agree that Rookstool was trying to intimidate you when he sent you that picture?

Gotta run. Give Lil and the McKnights my best. I sometimes wonder if we would still live in a democracy if not for people like you all.

Bill