Dear Diana,

Sending me the Bower book, Nazi Gold, was thoughtful and I appreciate it. Thumbing through it before supper I saw the picture of Sam Klaus.

My how that man tried!

I know nothing about him and that gold but when he was in State intelligence he waged a losing battle with our army over deposits of Nazi records.

For a while some of that intelligence passed through my hands. Once when I had a few days off to see my mother and grandmother I had hardly gotten there before I was called back. He wanted to talk to me.

It was about where some of those captured Nazi records were stored.

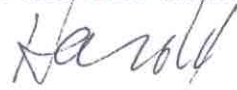

All that comes to mind now is salt mines at Marburg. But they were lying to him nonstop, denying the existence of what I knew existed because the records came to me and I passed them on.

Our army had that kind of attitude.

Once as I recall some captured Nazi party records were burned to keep the Soviets from getting them.

I notice the Athens post mark. If you are working at the University and need help there is a very nice law professor Donald Wilkes who has been in touch with me. He also wrote a couple of articles on Russell's disagreement for local papers.

Many thanks and best wishes,

Harold Weisberg
