Denr Mick,
I 㫙preiate your reyly, ite promptnesa, nd the caeck. I will reply candidy, tue only honest basis of comulicetion betwe a friends.

There never wes any question but that your corm1ttee was to pay ell my transportation expenses and a smoll honorarium. There never was any doubt 1 vas to get the fare in odvance, for 1 did not have it to advence, and thet I would use the nonorerium to finence other travel, to see others working in the fisld and brine taem up to date on whet 1 had learned. and there never was eny doubt there \%es no chence of personal gein for te in this exhuntinf undertesking.

George did send ma $$ 100$ in odvance, and he dic give me some money When I Wes there. He 日lso sent a check with a letter to which I reuponded 11/25. Wy wife is 111 and is resting, so I connot now consult the books on this. When be phoned me right after the Sham trisl, he seid we had sent onother $$ 100.0$. It never got here and he never enswered eny of the letters I wrote to sscertein if it wa loet in the moil. In iset. a neadess end particularly inexcuseable abuse has besn Ceorge's refusal to respond in uny way. I cannot even afford the il. 00 ior the offrate phone csll. George knew say situstion, as you did not. I've ned not a cent of income in five years, with the little raturn fron the first book put into the second. ile sre, with no income and no backlog, reolly very deep in dobt, the i terest alone boive a major problem for us-sil from this. That is why I bm unsble to trsvel witnout getting y fare in edvance. + have found, unheppily, that the best-intentioned people, the finest, slways manage to essume their feilures to keep their pmmises are of no consequences. heide from the rother enormoue amount of time it wes taken ard the exnousting sdditional losd it imposed, my varioua trip to Celifornis, fifter what little I hsve been eiven wes bplied, put me well over 1,000 in debt. Fuls is intolerable, ant especially the decent pople ho know this-in oll csses they didshould never have added this burden. nd when you consider the hours I work every dey, ti lit:le zleep - hyve gotten, it is indecat for a fine guy like George to add this sbuze. None of this wes known to tag rest of ynur comittee, I assume, but it is all true...Among the things I csn:ot take tive to do is keep a separete set of books on unkept promises. The casiest ay to leorn what you owe ma is to csil the oirlines, get the cost of a Boltivore-San Diego round trip, add about oll 150 for the cost of trspel end parking to the urport, end, if you c n learn fro Geore the anell honorerium he seld t ere would bo. "y best recollection ia thnt it wos to have been, from both appeerences, butween 125-150, which is, think you realize, notilng st sil. There was Enmething ebout if there could be is collection for one menting, in which sent i was th cet whitever there was over the sost. I am not clear on this. On the books, the er negement was us you recell, with you paying traneportation coste, waica is 10,0 more discaunt tan tae bet customer omonf bookstores gets. If she con fid it when ane vwakens, I'll get $t$ copy of the invoice from my wife ond enclose thet, i see no point in tae imne iste return of the unsold books, unless younwent to eet rid of them. There may, from time to tiae, be a cell for some. But when you return any, be sure to insure them, for there is slwuys domege ond 1 c nnot sell dineged ones.

Tenr Nick,
I appreaiete your reply, ite promptness, nd the caeck. I will reply candidy, tue only honest basia of commaication betwo n iriends.

There never wes any queztion but that your comittee was to pay oll my transportgtion expenses and a smell honorarium.
