

1/6/74 an Allegheny Airlines plane crashed on landing in Johnstown, Pa. It was a Sunday & Nixon had gas less Sundays instead of having need + maintenance in the energy crisis he had allowed to develop. So, the federal investigation had to wait until after midnight - after it was no longer a Sunday - before he could get enough gas to make the trip in his car. CBS radio report 1/7/74