n Eavors More Public Logg

United Press International day recommended substantial one that would doom "future manage the cutting properly. generations to an even more serious timber shortage" than now exists.

view and revise its policies for rather than cutting selected determining how much timber trees. may be cut.

A presidential panel yester. range of 50 to 100 per cent."

increases in logging in the na- national forest studies the antion's public forest lands and nual harvest rate could be 39 mendations into effect "as the continued use of all availa- per cent higher than the for they consider practical." He ble techniques, including est service presently plans. It added the report indicates clearcutting, to accomplish it.

President Nixon endorsed devices a service presently plans. It added the report indicates that fears of environmentalists "would appear to be undertaken and the lord of the report indicates that fears of environmentalists and the report indicates that fears of environmentalists are report indicates that fears of environmentalists are report indicates the re dertaken only if the govern-founded, misleading or exagists promptly attacked it as ment spends enough money to gerated."

efficient methods of timber crease without condemning making under the chairman- ting, under appropriate condi-

The report defended clear-"The annual harvest on sutting as a practice which lands available for commercial accomplishes the same object forest service has drawn up timber production on western tive that farmers have - "to for cutting are already "far national forests can be in-harvest the crop and establish too high." creased substantially," the re- a new one." It found the port said. "Analyses based "popular conception that timupon nationwide forest inven- ber cutting causes severe damtory data indicated possibili- age to soil watersheds, streams, water quality, wildlife habitat and forest regeneration to be grossly unjusti-

Mr. Nixon issued a state-ties for increasing the old ment instructing members of growth cutting rate in the a timber task force in the Office of Management and The report said that in four Budget to put the recom-

A spokesman for Friends The study recommended the of the Earth said, "there isn't "retaining of all proven and enough growth to allow an in-The report, two years in the harvest, including clearcut future generations to an even ship of former Interior Secretions." Clearcutting is the He added that reforesting is tay Fred A. Seaton, said the practice of stripping whole currently far behind schedule tay Fred A. Seaton, said the practice of stripping whole because the administration U.S. Forest Service should resections of forests at a time has impounded funds intended for that purpose.

Richard M. Lahn, a spokesman for the Sierra Club, said that the current figures the > long b fore this action out-of-sight interest rates had depressed home sales. There was no lumber shortage for for domestic uses. The sole use for this rip-off the of the public forests was for export, meaning to Nixon's friends and in the interest of his desparate fight to halt the unfavorable balance of payments that came to pass under his administration and from his policies. The more of the public's property he could sell at the cost of the public, the more those who helped make and keep him President would derive personal profit and the sales of the public's property abroad would hold down the flightxefxeapital gramathexecountry statistics of the disaster of his policies.