U.S. Jury Quiz, No Exile Chief

JAMES LEWIS

Walks to court

Gordon Novel, who said just Att'y Jim Garrison wants to question him about 1961 events involving former Cuban exile leader Sergio Arcacha Smith, has answered a summons to appear before the Orleans Parish Grand Jury Tuesday.

Novel, 29, entered the Criminal Courts building shortly after the grand jury returned from lunch, but he did not go in immediately. He was accompanied by his attorney, Steve Puskin, and Eddie L. Sapir, who said they tried not to allow their client to answer reporters' questions.

A few moments after Novel appeared, Garrison went into the grand jury room. He was interviewed prior to his appearance before the jury.

Asked if he knows Clay L. Shaw, who has been accused by Garrison of conspiring to murder the President, Novel said "I know him but not as related to this thing."

He said he has never known Lee Harvey Oswald, the man named by the Warren Commission as President Kennedy's assassin, and that he does not know David W. Ferrie, Raymond Russo, who has testified that he overheard David W. Ferrie, Oswald and Shaw plotting to kill Mr. Kennedy.

Novel, who owns the Jamaican Village bar at 3677 N. Rampart, said he has been subpoenaed rather than summoned. He said he has never been subpoenaed before.

He said, "I think Mr. Garrison wants to know something about my activity during 1961 which are related to Mr. Sergio Arcacha Smith."

"AND THAT'S ALL," Novel said. "I have no idea what you are interested in, but with all the things that have happened in New Orleans during 1961, and as a leader of anti-Castro Cubans here in an organization known as the Cuban Democratic Patriotic Front, I am sure that you would like to participate in the investigation."

Asked if he knew Oswald in 1961 and bound for Mexico, where he was involved in the time of the assassination, Novel said, "I don't know him personally, but I do know him through his wife, Jacqueline." Novel aroused the curiosity of Metairie residents in 1962 when he was making a flight test of an 18-foot helium-filled balloon. Neighbors saw a mysterious lighted object in the air over Metairie and began telephoning the newspaper to find out what it was. Novel was testing a balloon which he had built a Cuckoo Clock with light system.

Novel was mentioned in the news on September 11, 1963, when he was a passenger in a Studebaker and was reported as being prepared to enter his car in a Charlotte St. parking lot. He was hit and became lame.

The grand jury was questioning a third person this morning, a young man who identified his name as Courtney Clark.

CLARK CAME OUT of the jury room this morning and sat on a bench outside, apparently waiting to be called again. He said he was not under subpoena but had been asked to appear by assistant Dist. Atty. John Volk.

Andrews appeared at the Criminal Courts building this morning and entered at Broad Street, most unimpaired by reporters.

Andrews had been subpoenaed to appear at 9 a.m. and arrived at the courthouse on schedule. He showed up alone, in contrast to previous appearances when he was accompanied by his attorney, Sam Monk Zeldin.

A reporter asked him, "Do you know why you are here?"

He said, "Do you know why you are here?"
