IN RAY: Rounding out the TCCL collection, for local Patent Researchers, -seeking to solve & end High-crimes, such as P-assin, by including books by Harold Weisberg, as gathered from Books-In-Print (Bowker ON-LINE) & Weisberg's own bibliography, in CONTEMPORARY AUTHORS, -biography enclsd, 0-0-0.

I am including some introductory materials, on MY PROGRAM FOR TULSA-EXTENDED. I am seeking to make partnership with you, in MD, for further patent research & publication.

Tulsa is strategically located, -with AA Airlines hq for maintenance & engs. Also, we are on MAIN STREET-U.S., -Chicago to LA, -& Cosmic Oil Capital, with OKC hq still here, -moved to 15th-Sheridan in East Tulsa, -formerly Downtown. Yo files are uv greatest interest to me, -as mine should be to yoo. We have the same-same prblm, -uv having to see all work LOST, when burnt out several times, -prior to Archives indexing & publication uv all potential books. I have filed, -at yo suggestion(FOIA publishst, 1977), v. US-WH-CIA(155 agencies), to get copies, -marked up & indexed for TOP SECRET spy files, uv my letters sent WH in 1974 & 1975, -while in DC, held up by mail reader-interceptor-censor = CIA in DC-hq, -who still resists-refuses access & xerox copies uv MY OMN work, -paid for with MY OMN money & time & intelligent effort.

My BOOK OUTLINE, in 1975, was to publish a definition of secret & secret literature, -compiling all known references in the OPEN LITERATURE, -to promote the First Amendment Grant from U.S. Constitution, v. 2d Amendment(War-guns-reldjdn-control-terror).

I notice yo higher ed background, but not yo specialty. I assume it to be Journalism, -but it appears to be Science or Engineering, -per Master Biography Index, -enclsd.
I am always destitute for cash, -with NO PROVISION for secret agents in the field, -their families, & benefits program. I have $699/mo income-SSD & VA combined, -under a general mandate to all others in a difficult category(legally dead).
I have but $338 in cash, in bank, -until next check comes in, on 3rd uv month. My files are IN STORAGE, -accessible as long as rent paid monthly.
I am seeking $20,000 in advance, to publish my book, covering 1926-93, and to preserve files as PRESIDENTIAL ARCHIVES, 1954-93, -for me as THE MARTIAN PRESIDENT!, for a day, in 1954. I am, thus, seeking a publisher, -at yo recommendation and research & suggestion. Good bye (Tues, 4/24/94) $500, in 1994

WEISBERG, Harold 1913-
PERSONAL: Born April 8, 1913, in Philadelphia, Pa.; son of Fred and Sarah (Spiegel) Weisberg; married Lillian Stone, August 3, 1942. Education: Attended University of Delaware, 1930-33; Home: Route 12, Frederick, Md. 21701.
CAREER: Free-lance journalist and author. Reporter on Wilmington Morning News and Wilmington Sunday Star, 1930-33; correspondent for Philadelphia Ledger and other newspapers, 1930-33; Senate editor and investigator, 1936-39; Washington correspondent for Click, 1940-42. Military service: Office of Strategic Services, 1943-47.
WRITINGS: Whitewash: The Report on the Warren Report, privately printed, 1965; Whitewash II: The FBI-Secret Service Cover-up, privately printed, 1966; Photographs of Whitewash: Suppressed Kennedy Assassination Pictures, privately printed, 1967, revised edition, 1976; Oswald in New Orleans, Canyon Books, 1967; Frame-up: The Martin Luther King-James Earl Ray Case, Outbridge & Diens-trey, 1971; Whitewash IV: Top Secret JFK Assassination Transcript, privately printed, 1974; Post Mortem: JFK As-sassination Cover-up Smashed!, privately printed, 1975.
SIDELIGHTS: Harold Weisberg told CA: "I have prob-ably filed more law suits under the [Freedom of Information] Act than any other private person, certainly more than any one writer. I am confident I have published more formerly top secret records in facsimile than anyone else. [Facsimile provides full and direct access to scholars and private cit-izens, with all annotations, comments and file designations on the formerly suppressed records.]
"As of July, 1978, I had obtained more than 150,000 pages of these previously hidden official records. This is much more than anyone can publish. To assure perpetual and unlim-ited access, I have established a public archive at the Uni-versity of Wisconsin, Stevens Point branch because the his-tory faculty there includes the outstanding bibliographer in the field, Dr. David Wroton. When all my relevant records are deposited, they may total a million pages."

"In my suit C.A. 77-2155 in federal district court for the Dis-trict of Columbia, Judge Gerhard Gesell stated that [were it not for my diligence and persistence the Freedom of Infor-mation Act as we know it today would not exist.] In recog-nition of this and of my making all the records I receive avail-able to others, he held that I fill a public role that under the Act requires the FBI to provide me with its records without cost. I make these records available to other writers prior to court and administrative proceedings to be able to find time for my own writing. Starvation in the midst of plenty!
"As a result of my decade-long struggles for freedom of in-formation with the records of the intelligence agencies, par-ticularly the FBI and the CIA, my work has grown from the first critical analysis of the Warren Commission's report into what my first book forecast, a vast, in-depth study of our basic institutions in time of great stress. Facts about these most subversive of crimes in a representative society, assas-sinations, are now really secondary in the great scope of the work and the records obtained.
"My files now include a large selection of the late J. Edgar Hoover's personal notations, often diatribes that were never expected to be seen by other than top-level FBI eyes. These range from calling FBI special agents 'labbermouths' to describing Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. as a 'tom cat' and Gerald Ford (who was Hoover's informant inside the Warren Commission...) as a 'load.'"

HOPE DIES HARD

8.21.2-22.4.

by Jennings
R. Wright
NYC
[Doubt 2-193
at TCCCL]

Howard and Katie finally met Davis face-to-face that summer in Washington at a three-day convention on the Kennedy assassination.

Over and over, Donahue would explain how the trajectory of the bullet, the slug's explosive disintegration, and the diameter of the entrance wound proved, to him anyway, that Hickey had fired the last shot.

Davis's "mob-hit" book would go on to become the 1988 best-seller Mafia Kingshit—Carlos Marcello and the Assassination of John F. Kennedy. The story detailed evidence suggesting that New Orleans mob boss Carlos Marcello had had Kennedy killed in retaliation for the Kennedy brothers' attempts to destroy the Marcello crime organization. Davis presented his scenario in compelling fashion and drew from a wide variety of sources, including evidence assembled by Jim Garrison over the course of his 1967-69 Ferrie-Shaw probe.

Early on, Davis had recommended Donahue pay a visit to Harold Weisberg, a fellow Marylander and the well-known shaman of assassination theorists.

Weisberg spoke at nearly every turn about the black hand of a government conspiracy, yet he never seemed able to develop any logical arguments about who specifically was behind this treachery or why. (Ent. By 4 Ent. - Burne!!)

he was aware of Donahue's theory from the Sun article but didn't know of any evidence that justified the gunsmith's conclusions. Every photograph from Dealey Plaza appeared to disprove the accident scenario. Weisberg said, "a man over seventy years old who'd given a good part of his life to studying the Kennedy assassination. Now his health was failing, the state university couldn't care less about his painstakingly amassed collection of assassination documents and, to top it off, his conclusions about how Kennedy died were flat wrong." (p. 115 Am. - up).

Following the encounter with Weisberg, Howard realized he would have to finish the investigation on his own. He knew there was an important subject that needed to be reexamined in greater detail: the Secret Service in general and, in particular, their actions in Dallas.

Like many twentieth-century American institutions, the Secret Service was forged in the caldron of the Civil War. Originally, the Service was conceived as part of the Treasury Department and charged with investigating and combating currency counterfeiting, which was endemic in the war years. It was not until after the assassination of President William McKinley in 1901 that the agency picked up the additional duty of protecting the President.

In time the Service would also be responsible for shielding the vice president, the President-elect, major presidential candidates, former presidents and their wives, widows of former presidents, presidential children and visiting heads of state. The agency also developed a sophisticated research division that today undertakes the daunting task of identifying and monitoring potential assassins. As well, the Service continues to retain authority in cases involving counterfeiting.

This vote of no confidence notwithstanding, Howard and Katie drove to Weisberg's farm in western Maryland and spent the afternoon with the king of the critics. Through lunch, Weisberg complained bitterly about the University of Maryland's refusal to accept his donation of the thousands of assassination-related documents he'd collected over the years.
