

THE KENNEDY ASSASSINATION.

Many people have their "pet" theories about the assassination of President Kennedy. Some have written books about it. All agree on one point...That the so-called "Warren Report" was a whitewash that covered up more than it uncovered. There are more unanswered questions now than when the investigation started. Even before the Warren Commission began its work Mr. Warren stated that some of its findings would not be revealed to the public "during our lifetime". He was right. Some of the most important testimony was taken in secret and locked up in the National Archives for 75 years.

I believe too that I am entitled to my theory about this crime that shook the world. Here it is; I will begin by asking a question..."Who benefited most by having Kennedy out of the way?...HIS OWN CHURCH. Why? Mr. Kennedy stated even before the election that he was not in favor of setting aside the First Amendment to our Constitution in order to illegally divert public tax money to parochial schools, 90 percent of which are owned and operated by the Roman Catholic church. Protestants voted for him because they were convinced that he would keep his promise. Catholics voted for him because they didn't think he would dare to disobey the orders of the Bishops that he use his power to advance the interests of his church. The hierarchy of his church found out too late that Kennedy meant what he said...That he was a better American than a Catholic.

The Roman Catholic hierarchy was in a dilemma. Kennedy had to go. WHY ?. Kennedy was at the height of his popularity and would very likely have been re-elected in 1964. This meant that the Catholics would have had to wait at least five years before the American taxpayers could be saddled with the cost of Roman Catholic indoctrination. You take it from there. Remember, this is only my personal theory and I will stick to it until something better comes along. Remember, too that the Bishops of the "Ecumenical Council" demanded that the cost of Roman Catholic education(indoctrination)be paid by the taxpayers of the various countries where the Catholic church operates.

President Johnson has learned his lesson and is playing it safe. Under his Administration untold millions of American tax dollars are flowing into the bulging vaults of the Catholic church.
