Mr. Marlon Johnson
The National Archives

Dear Mr. Johnson,

I am sorry that neither your nor Miss Smith were available when I phoned yesterday. Although my recent requests for it had not been filled, the list of the 1972-3 declassification had been sent me by Miss. Smith under date of July 18, 1973. It had been mislaid.

I also phoned to see if my deposit was sufficient to cover the costs of copying all of it.

Mr. Leahy said you were copying this for me, that my deposit was something like $5.00 short and that you would prefer to have this prior to mailing.

So that this need not trouble you as soon again and that there be no delay in any future mailings I enclose a check for $100. In this way you will have no problem copying whatever is declassified for me as soon as it is declassified. As I asked you, I'd like everything as it is declassified without notification as soon as it becomes available unless the length and costs are extraordinary.

I do believe that some pages that had been withheld from documents I had received were made available and were not sent to me. This is not because my deposit did not cover their cost.

The list, while helpful, cannot be definitive. It appears that a few of the entries had been declassified, I think some for me. I do not think you should have to wonder or take time to discover if I have been provided copies of these relatively few pages. Unless there is a duplication of considerable length, just make a copy for me without taking the time to check.

I do want each document released in this declassification.

On any you have not yet copied and where it is possible in the future, where the original document is on letter-sized paper I would prefer that the copy also be on letter-sized paper. My files are letter-sized.

If you are to draft Dr. Rhoads' responses to some of my recent inquiries those in which I have most immediate interest relate to documents dealing with the spectrographic and neutron activation analyses. You are aware that this matter is currently before the courts. My verbal request to you was on May 13. I do need all of these documents. Those that were sent me were not all.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
