hief Job Sought for Otepka

By Drew Pearson

ments have been taking place top. backstage regarding Otto can Secretaries of State for United States. leaking security classified papers to Sen. Tom Dodd of Connecticut.

The first development took place inside the Senate Judiciary Committee last week. tried to push confirmation of protect them. Otepka to the $36,000 job on Nazi Links to Otepka the Subversive Activities Control Board. President Nixon post, at Dirksen's urgingquite a promotion from his old $14,000 State Department job.

land asked to see a transcript neo-Nazi movement. of the Otepka hearings. They about his Nazi friends.

nedy and Tydings aside. But United States. chairman Jim Eastland (D-Miss.) ruled that the Senators and the Liberty Lobby has had a right to read galley proofs of the hearing. So a vote was delayed. It comes to distributed a film, "The Judiciary Committee. The public size of the public size of the senators and the Liberty Lobby has between the distributed and the Senators and the Liberty Lobby has issues to be discussed behind the closed doors of the Senator the public size of the public size of the senator is the service of the vital symbols of justice, not oppression. If people are in trouble, they can come to the police. vote was delayed. It comes to distributed . a a head this week.

to establish a new security hammered his critics. Some significant develop- network with Otepka at the

The third development was Otepka, the one-time State De- concrete evidence that Otepka partment official dropped by has been extremely close to both Democratic and Republi- the neo-Nazi movement in the

Thus, as a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board, charged with ruling on subversive organizations. Otepka would be called upon to pass upon the activities of Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-III.) his closest friends and could

It has now been established had appointed him to this beyond any possible doubt that the Liberty Lobby was one of the most indefatigable When Dirksen made this champions of Otepka. It has move at a closed session. Sens. further been established be-Ted Kennedy of Massachu-yond any doubt that the Libsetts and Joe Tydings of Mary- erty Lobby is a front for the

At first an effort was made knew that a subcommittee to conceal the links between very friendly to Otepka, in the Liberty Lobby and the cluding Sen. Dodd to whom he neo-Nazis. Their private link of Government, under control to work with youngsters in the leaked the papers, had passed was Willis Carto, founder of on his qualifications. And they both. Now, however, the Lib- Control Board. suspected he had been asked erty Lobby is publicly pushing penetrating questions the sale of paperback editions of "Imperium," the new "Mein will once again deal with secuDirksen tried to brush KenKampf" of Nazism in the

The link between Otepka all the Government." The second development bulletins have consistently de- presumably, the issues will

However, the conspiracy to Teacher Goldwater set up a new security organization is the most significant development of all.

The Subversive Activities Control Board to which Otepka is being appointed has been inactive for years. It hasn't heard a single case of subversion. However, rightwing Senators plan to revitalize it under Otepka's leadership.

To this end they have already made Otepka's former assistant, John Norpel Jr., research director of the Senate Internal Security Committee.

Furthermore, they plan to pass a new Iternal Security Act, S. 12, giving Otepka new powers to conduct witch hunts.

Sen. Strom Thurmond (R-S.C.), an author of S. 12, describes it as follows: "The pro-1969, now pending in the Senate, would set up a central security agency for all agencies of the Subversive Activities

"If this legislation passes," the State Department, but for

Otepka Case." Liberty Lobby lic will not be present. Later,

was revelation of a conspiracy | fended Otepka, consistently also be discussed on the Senate floor.

Tuesday, May 13, 1969

Likable Sen. Barry Goldwater, whose conservative outlook is as hardrock as the landscape of his native Arizona, has taken the Senate's Republican freshmen under his wing.

By his standards they are flaming liberals, but he doesn't seem to be trying to convert them to his conservative philosophy. He merely wants to help them overcome the bewilderment he encountered when he first came to the Senate.

He recalled to friends how his hands sweated and his knees knocked the first time he rose in the Senate to address the chair.

The Justice Corps

David Berger, former District Attorney of Philadelphia, posed Internal Security Act of has worked out a new angle to cure crime in the inner cities. It's the "Justice Corps," pat-terned after the Peace Corps, ghettos.

"Most people view the police and the district attorney's . office as their enemy," says Berger. "We have to reverse that and make them think of the police and the D.A. as their friend. They should be symbols of justice, not oppresattorney.

© 1969, Bell-McClure Syndicate, Inc.