

9/23/95

Dear Bill,

Thanks for sending me your book. Thanks in particular for going to the extra expense of sending it by air! That timed it perfectly because I'd just finished the book I was reading for work so I'll begin it next.

I've become a slow reader and I read little compared to what I did because I spend all the time I can adding to the record for history on the JFK assassination and its investigations. When I'm able to I write and the volume is accumulating. As I may have told you I've not even told C & G that I did a sequel to NEVER AGAIN! a year ago, before it was published. I wrote almost all of it in 1992 and it was set upon. But three mornings a week my schedule on medical needs gave me some time I enjoy reading. Those mornings I'm at the building in which I have blood tests and read the papers in my car before the doors open at 5:30. Then I enter it and walk until I need to rest, read while I'm resting, and then repeat this until 7. Then my blood is drawn and I drive to where I have physical therapy. I then wait and read - until the therapists get there. Then I have two brief rest periods and I read on them. I'm very glad to have your book to read these times.

I hope it was possible for you to trace "Arrell McCullough after he left Memphis. Several, including Redditt, told me he'd gone to Washington and was working for the CIA. When the OPR interviewed him it was at The Safeway Building in Washington. It had been the offices of the Safeway chain of stores on the edge of a residential area. Its mechanic who serviced its vehicles did some moonlighting and he did work for me. I do not know that it means anything but I wondered why the CIA had any special use of him other than perhaps as a guard and why it had that interest with all the guards who were available.

I hope you got some use for the records you got here and the student kept searching for you. I suppose if you did I'll see it.

I hope, too, that C & G treat you better than they did me, as well as they treat the JFK assassination carzies with whom they specialize.

Thanks and good luck with the book,

Harold