Dear Dave,

Yesterday Gary said you were misquoted or what you said or gave Posner was misrepresented. I did not then have a copy of the book but I got one today and from just a hasty skimming regard it as one of the most intendedly dishonest of all the many bad books on the subject. I'll be reading it when I can and I regret slowly because that is all the speed in reading I now have, in time I'll address this directly and when I do it will not be in secret. I checked his index and then I looked where she put markers. I think there is not a single really accurate reference to me and quite a few are to his knowledge false, deliberately prejudicial or both.

I have started what I did with the 25th anniversary, a separate file for the historical record to the degree I can. I thus will appreciate whatever you can send me. I have in mind that you will be making a correct record of what Gary referred to.

This dishonesty is cleverly done and with a major publisher making major effort it will be a major disinformation.

Thanks and best to you all,

Harold
