

An investigator shows commission members the firing angle used by Oswald.

This is the gun used to kill the President. It was found in the depository building.