CIA spokesman said esterday it "can be as med" that agents design ed R4, R-5, R-6 and R-7 re working for the intelligence agency when they gathered information about th Young Socialists Alliance here in 1969 and 1970.

The spokesman also said that some information about the Alliance and its parent Socialist Workers Party was potained casually by CIA employs in the course of ioing other business.

Other material about the party may have been sent to the CIA by persons not connected with the agency and ben was put into CIAfiles, he spokesmañ added.

Documents showing that the intelligence agency obtained information about the Socialist Workers Party as early as 1951 were re-leased Wednesday by the arty.

The party obtained the documents from the CIA as the result of a court order in a suit seeking to stop the CIA, FBI and other government agencies from spying on it. The civil suit was brought in New York City by the Political Rights Deense Fund.

In addition to showing the CIA kept literature about the party, the documents also show the agency got information about party meetings here in 1969 and 1970 from four agents identified only as R-4, R-5, R-6 and R-7. The Young Socialists Allince is the youth organization of the Socialist Workers Party which espouses the world revolution philosophy t the late Leon Trotsky.

The CIA spokesman said between 1967 and 1973.

It also said that in 1967 and 1968 the CIA's Office of Security infiltrated and spied on activist organizations in Washington but in December of 1968 that operation was turned over to D.C. Police.

President Ford created the Rockefeller Commission to investigate the CIA after press reports that the agency engaged in massive, filegal domestic spying.

The only mention by the commission of CIA domestic spying in Washington after 1968 was an occassion in 1971 when a CHAOS agent was assigned to infiltrate the May Day antiwar organization.

The CIA spokesman said esterday that the agents identified only as R-4, R-5, and R-7 may worked for the CHAOS project. He said it also was possible that the four agents spying on the Young Socialists Alliance here may have been "overzealous."

On Wednesday, the CIA spokesman said R-4, R-5, R-6 and R-7 may or may not have been CIA agents. Yesterday, he said: "It can be assumed" they were working for the CIA." Their reports' were filed with the CIA Office of Security, according to the documents.

The documents include copies of memorandums. dated 1959 and 1961, respectively, from New York and Boston "field" offices. The

sion report on the CIA said 1959 memo deals with YSA from the agency's New York and Boston offices to CIA headquarters.

According to the spokesman, the material was gathered in a "passive way." He said the CIA had not then "targeted" the YSA for surveillance. "It was overt, not covert," the policy of the covert." said.

He expalined that "some of our fellows probably were, passing through Harvard Yard on other business and picked it (the literature) up and sent it to us."

According to the spokesman, the CIA maintained aville on the Socialists Workers Party as early as 1951 because the organization was listed as "subversive" by the Justice Department and that in toing back-ground checks on potential CIA employees, the agency would want to check the possibility of any link between potential employees and the party.

The documents also show the CIA kept in its files a copy of the 1968 New York state, elections ballot con-taining the names of Socialist Workers Party candi-

The CIA spokesman said that persons not employed by the agency often sent it unsolicited material. There is a nut fringe that sends us stuff. What do we do with it? We pop it in the files," he said. 4
