Dear Dave,

Nothing urgent about this. Put it in your pocket for when you have time to read what you don't have to do anything about and might interest you.

I don't think there is any prospect of TV interest but I did want to make a note that would remind me in the future and there is a desire to tape me for talking history stuff. There is enormously more than I suggest or say.

On the other hand, I see movie possibilities some time in the future.

The Cassius Clay (original, that is) story is a great one. I recall enough of the details.

This is a fragment of my past. I also have in mind that if anything comes to pass, I now have no way of knowing what can be of public-relations value in the future.

When we parted I went back to Bud's office. As I suspected, he is happy with our arrangement to avoid use of his office. I'll write Freed about it. - in closed copy

Sorry to see you so tired. I have been that way often enough. I have even eaten that way, dozing off in mid-chew!

Best regards,
