Dear Jerry,

Relet 2/13, thanks for the various-

On the book, it has two values: immediately, for possible use re N.C., and there is no chance special ordering would locate in time for such use; and historically, for it is the closest thing we can get to a transcript of what NBC aired. This second value is not sufficient for the expenditure of any unusual sum. If and when one shows up, that will then be fine, but do not pay the extra tariff.

I have a borrowed copy of "There Was A President", which has some pix and a contracted transcript.

Hurriedly,

Thanks,

Dear Harold,

I did a little more research on "The 30 mins" after I found out from the A.L.C. (see deep) bibliography that it was published in 1966 by Random House. Random House informed me that it is out of print, and they were unable to tell me where I could find ~~out~~ a copy of it. NBC was also unable to help, and I have yet to find a bookshop in the city which carries it including just about every one

I could find specializing in out of print books.
I did find one bookshop, however, which said they could put out a tracer on the book. I did not have them do it since I imagine it would be quite expensive and I was not sure of how important it was. If you still want the book I can have them put out a search for it.

Everything here is fine. I'm currently busy as hell working full time, taking 13 credits at night, following the Show trial, and trying to see my girlfriend now and then.

I certainly hope Garrison has more evidence waiting in the wings than he's brought out thus far. I'm afraid Speiser and Russo did far more damage to the state's case than they benefited it.
My own opinion is that unless Garrison has a lot more concrete evidence directly against Show there is going to be a unanimous acquittal.

I'm also looking for an apartment, and if and when I find one you're welcome to stay at my place any time you're in town. I have to admit, though, that New York rents being what they are, and ~~from~~ my finances being in the condition they are still in, it may not be as soon as I would like before I have my own apartment.

I hope everything is OK by ~~with~~ you, and that you're having better success at finding a publisher.

It's getting late so I'll sign off. Please let me know what to do about that book.

Sincerely,
Jerry Solis

P.S. all the N.Y. media is mentioning the fact that the show jury saw the Zapruder film today, but not one mention of which way the President's head was driven after the hit. Typical.
