1 le

2

Marie Ser

"The Best Religion Is Communism"

Oswald reported for duty at the Marine Corps recruit depot in San Diego on October 26, 1956, and was assigned to the Second Training Battalion. There, he was given a series of aptitude tests and scored slightly below average. He was also trained in the use of the M-1 rifle.2 On December 21, 1956, after three weeks of training, he shot 212, two points over the score required for a "sharpshooter" qualification, the second highest in the Marine Corps.3 Such a score indicated that from the standing position, he could hit a ten-inch bull's-eye, from a minimum of 200 yards, eight times out of ten.4 Shortly before he left the Marine Corps, in May 1959, Oswald again certified himself on a firing range. Although he then had no motivation and his disgust for the Marines was high, he still managed to score 191, enough to qualify as a "marksman." Sgt. James Zahm, the NCO in charge of the marksmanship training unit, said, "In the Marine Corps he is a good shot, slightly above average . . . and as compared to the average male . . . throughout the United States, he is an excellent shot."6*

Oswald left San Diego in January 1957, and through that sum-

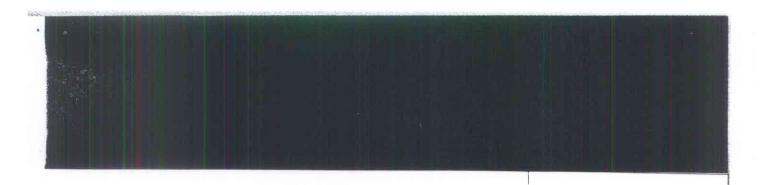

^{*}Harold Weisberg stated that "Oswald's marksmanship... was poor..."
Jim Garrison is merciless in his attack on Oswald's rifle ability, saying he was "terrible," a "notoriously poor shot," and had "an abysmal marksmanship record in the Marines." Yet those in charge of the marksmanship branch praised Oswald's ability and said he was easily capable of carrying out the JFK assassination. It "was an easy shot for a man with the equip-

510 = Notes

- 86. Ibid.
- 87. Ibid., p. 11.
- 88. WR, p. 384.
- Testimony of Marguerite Oswald, WC Vol. I, pp. 198, 200; Carro Exhibit 1, WC Vol XIX, p. 319; FBI report, December 18, 1963, of interview with Dr. Benjamin Powell (CD 189), CE 2240, WC Vol. XXV, p. 140.
- FBI report, November 26, 1963, reflecting affidavit of Palmer McBride (CD 75), CE 1386, WC Vol. XXII, pp. 251, 252.
- 91. Ibid., p. 252.
- 92. Ibid., p. 253.
- 93. Testimony of George de Mohrenschildt, WC Vol. IX, p. 247.
- Notes of interview of Lee Oswald conducted by Aline Mosby in Moscow, November 1959 (CD 352), CE 1385, WC Vol. XXII, p. 703.
- Copies of Lee Oswald's classification card, dated August 30, 1956, Fort Worth public schools, high school department, and Oswald's permanent high school record, Fort Worth public schools, Arlington Heights High School (CD 373), CE 1873 J, K, WC Vol. XXIII, pp. 671–73.
- 96. Testimony of Marguerite Oswald, WC Vol. I, p. 234.
- 97. CE 2240, p. 2.
- Testimony of Viola Peterman, WC Vol. VIII, p. 64; testimony of Dr. Renatus Hartogs, WC Vol. VIII, p. 223.
- 99. Testimony of Robert Oswald, WC Vol. I, pp. 375-76.
- 100. Testimony of Marguerite Oswald, WC Vol. I, p. 227.
- 101. CE 1385, p. 705.
- 102. Testimony of John Pic, WC Vol. XI, p. 4.
- 103. Oswald, op. cit., p. 57.

2 "THE BEST RELIGION IS COMMUNISM"

- 1. Folsom Exhibit 1, WC Vol. XIX, pp. 1, 7.
- 2. Testimony of Maj. Eugene Anderson, WC Vol. XI, p. 302.
- 3. Testimony of Lt. Col. Allison Folsom, WC Vol. VIII, p. 304.
- 4. Testimony of John E. Donovan, WC Vol. VIII, p. 296.
- 5. Testimony of Lt. Col. Allison Folsom, WC Vol. VIII, p. 304.
- Testimony of Sgt. James A. Zahm, WC Vol. XI, p. 308; see also Folsom, WC Vol. VIII, p. 305.
- 7. Folsom Exhibit 1, WC Vol. XIX, pp. 3, 36.
- FBI report, June 26, 1964, of interview with Allen R. Felde (CD 1229), CE 1962, WC Vol. XXIII, p. 3.
- 9. Testimony of Daniel Powers, WC Vol. VIII, p. 268.
- 10. Ibid., pp. 272-73.
- 11. Testimony of Kerry Thornley, WC Vol. XI, p. 106.

the source of the ammunition. Oswald was never connected with either the ammunition or the clip in which it was contained. The clip did the ammunition or the clip in which it was contained. The clip did not come with the rifle. The empty carridge cases from which the bullets were presumed to have been fired and the live cartridge had all been in this rifle on a previous occasion and/or in another unidentified and ignored rifle. Mysteriously, the police suspended their investigation of the source of the ammunition without tracing it to Oswald. The police also swore to contradictory and conflicting state.

ments about what they did with the empty shells.
Nonetheless, the Report concludes that Oswald had the skill required for the assassination and that the rifle was the assassination quired for the assassination and that the fille was the assassination weapon. What it does not ignore about the ammunition it is satisfied to presume, even in the presence of contrary evidence. It also presumes Oswald's possession of the rifle and ammunition and, on the basis of these presumptions, concludes that Oswald was the marksman who committed murder.

This is the official opinion of the Marine Corps, that Oswald was a "poor" shot.

MCAS El Toro Calif 6May59 #"B" M-1

191MM) 200 rds

For Course "A", as shown above, qualification scores were as follows:

EXPERT -220; SHARPSHOOTER -210; MARKSMAN -190 For the Course marked "B", the qualification is:

EXPERT -225; SHARPSHOOTER -215; MARKSMAN -190

Regarding a comparison of the Marine Corps' requirements with those of the other services, it is believed that the requirements of the other services can be best obtained by you directly from those services. Enclosed, however, are copies of Marine Corps regulations describing the several marksmanship courses. These were effective at the time Oswald was on active duty in the Marine Corps.

The Marine Corps considers that any reasonable application of the instructions given to Marines should permit them to become qualified at least as a marksman. To become qualified as a sharpshooter, the Marine Corps is of the opinion that most Marines with a reasonable amount of adaptability to weapons firing can become so qualified. Consequently, a low marksman qualification indicates a rather poor "shot" and a sharpshooter qualification indicates a fairly good "shot". I wast the foregoing wil' serve the purpose of your inquiry.

2. 15 Tolom

A. G. FOLSOM, JR.
Lieutenant Colonel U. S. Marine Corps
Head, Records Branch, Personnel Department By direction of the Commandant of the Marine Cor-

Encl: (1) Copies of MARCOR Regs describing marksmanship courses 5. AT THE DEP

At about 12:30 p.m. the to Houston Street, went a cointo Elm and was fired upon the larynx and a massive her fatal. He lost much of the was hit near the right armp right nipple. His right wr wound in his left thigh. W toward Parkland Hospital at

This synopsis of the Re that are not treated with eq They are among the few that disbelief.

The language of the Ret many central facts of which mission can shift to another

Unless it was willing i own, which clearly it was no It could work with only the mation in which it was subme agencies. The full measure misrepresent a crime is beyo son. At the time of this wr son. At the time of this wr City in which an innocent me barbaric crimes of which he sion was complete with detai The public is outspoken and to spectacular crimes and the human. As a result of this "solve" nothing and their ac rights of innocent citizens. too often been convicted in as Chief Justice Warren hims jeopardized.

The investigation of th alone was of so highly dubio faults that, in itself, it c book. Perhaps experts will sion inherited this botch an with the imprint of its appr

Rarely has a crime of s presence of so many police. lice, including ranking offi Secret Service agents and sh the shots was reported within building from which the shot immediately pointed out. Ye not ever - despite the obfusthe entire two or three blockers. cial, but there was not even to do it, but you don't have the capability ... to fire three shots controlled with accuracy, this boy couldn't Commission Assistant Counsel Wesley J. Liebeler asked, "You ase that judgment on the fact that, in your own experience, it is ifficult to do that sort of thing?"

"Mr. Andrews: You just don't pick up a rifle or a pistol or whatever weapon you are using and stay proficient with it. You have to know what you are doing.... Somebody else pulled the trigger ... It's just taking the 5 years (experience) and thinking about it a bit. I have fired as much as 40,000 rounds of ammo a day for 7 days a week. You get pretty good with it as long as you keep firing. Then I have gone back after 2 weeks. I used to be able to take a shotgun, go on a skeet, and pop 100 out of 100. After 2 weeks, I could only pop 60 of them. I would have to start again, same way with the rifle and machineguns. Every other person I knew, same thing happened to them. You just have to stay in it."

Assuming what was never true, that Oswald was a skilled marks-an, how, where and with what did he practice to maintain this skill? here is testimony from a number of witnesses proving that a person sen at shooting galleries and looking like "swald was not and could be said was that in New Orleans she saw him practice using the bolt in the scope, "dry runs", with a weapon she did not recognize, and the scope, "dry runs", with a weapon she did not recognize, and the dark! Even her unbelievable allegation that Oswald fired one allet at General Edwin Walker is entirely without support. The extrt testimony by FBI Ballistics Expert Robert A. Frazier was that could not state even the manufacture of either the rifle or the liet (3H129-40). The only bullet the Commission ever "knew" Oswald red from his rifle was this Walker bullet.

Oswald's marksmanship in the Marine Corps, several years earlier, spoor, despite the efforts of the Report to establish otherwise. nonetheless concludes "that Oswald had the capability with a rifle ich enabled him to commit the assassination" (R19,195). The method which this transformation was accomplished is of admirable similarity: First, make invalid comparisons and then, when you get the st possible testimony, if it does not suit your purpose, just keep which this transformation was accomplished is of admirable simicity: First, make invalid comparisons and then, when you get the st possible testimony, if it does not suit your purpose, just keep raping the barrel until you do get what you want.

During his Marine Corps career, Oswald was twice tested in rksmanship. The first time came after an extensive period of traing and under skilled supervision, with an excellent weapon with ich he was thoroughly familiar and ammunition of unquestioned deadability. After first firing at least 250 rounds, he just mandability. After first firing at least 250 rounds, he just mandability. After first firing at least 250 rounds, he just mandability. After first firing at least 250 rounds, he just mandability. After first firing at least 250 rounds, he just mandability. After first firing at least 250 rounds, he just mandability. After first firing at least 250 rounds, he just mandability. After first firing at least 250 rounds, he just mandability. This is soft three designations used by the Services to describe rifle fill. It is actually only the middle grade, the top being "Expert cleans". At that time, Oswald did make the middle grade, not are the top. In a later test, when not under the intensive trains, he did very badly. He just made the very bottom of the lowest ide that everybody has to make, placing but a single bullet over a absolute minimum in the target. And even this was with a known ipon he had fired several hundred times and handled regularly!

The Commission asked the Marine Corps for information "relative Marksmanship capabilities of Lee Harvey Oswald". From the Head-intens of the Marine Corps came a response dated June 8, 1964, by utenant-Colonel A. G. Folsom, Jr., head of the Records Branch of Personnel Branch, "by direction of the Commandant of the Marine ps" (19H16-8). Colonel Folsom also correlated proficiency with ctice. He stated, "The Marine Corps considers that any reasonable application of the instructions given to Marines should permit them to be qualified as at least a marksman. To become qualified as a sharpshooter, the Marine Corps is of the opinion that most Marines reasonable amount of adaptability to weapons firing so become qualified. Consequently a low marksman qualification indicates a rather poor 'shot' and a sharpshooter qualification is a fairly good 'shot'."

"Shot"."

So, Oswald at his military best was only "fairly good" and at the end of his service was a "poor shot".

To offset this destruction of its sand castle, the Commission compared Oswald with a number of men who have spent their lives firing and studying weapons, men of the highest competence, firing weapons regularly as part of their livelihoods for all or most of their adult years, men who had had scientific weapons training. Then on July 24, 1964, the Commission called James A. Zahm, a Marine non-commissioned officer in weapons training (11H306ff.). Zahm was willing to call Oswald a good shot. But even he specified a minimum willing to call Oswald a good shot. But even he specified a minimum of ten practice shots as prerequisite in the use of the telescopic sight (R192). And this, of course, assumed a good telescopic sight.

After deliberation, the Report concludes that Oswald's Marine experience, "his other rifle experience (a bad performance with a .22 rifle) and his established familiarity with this particular weapon (totally non-existent) show that he possessed ample capability to commit the assassination" (R195).

Just how easy were these assassination shots? Could the performance be regarded as within the "capability" of a man who was at the time less practiced than when the Marine Corps several years earlier had evaluated him as a "poor shot"?

The Commission arranged what it presumably considered a fair test, with its three genuine markemen, "rated as master by the National Public Advance of the National Public Public

The Commission arranged what it presumably considered test, with its three genuine marksmen, "rated as master by the National Rifle Association" (R193). "The marksmen took as much time as they wanted for the first target and all hit the target. For the first four attempts, ... missed the second shot. ... Five of the six shots hit the third target ..."(R193). And they were firing at still targets, not moving, living things!

These three really were "masters". Two were civilians in the Small Arms Division of the Army's Development and Proof Services, and the third man was in the Army and had "a considerable background as a Small Arms Division of the Army's Development and Proof Services, and the third man was in the Army and had "a considerable background as a rifleman" (3HUH5). Yet even they were not able to do what the Report says Lee Harvey Oswald, the poor shot in the Marines, when out of practice, "had ample capacity to commit".

There is no reason to doubt that the ten-dollar rifle could be fired accurately. The improbability of an assassin ordering his weapon by mail when the same weapon was readily available locally (26H63) is not referred to in the Report, nor is his getting such a cheap weapon for such serious shooting. But the testimony of the experts is clear and unequivocal. The rifle could be fired accurate—ly. (3H390ff.) Only not at the time of the assassination, and not when received at the FBI laboratories in Washington, for initial testing, or at Edgewood Arsenal for further tests.

Robert A. Frazier, the FBI's expert, said, "When we attempted to sight this rifle at Quantico we found that the elevation adjustment in the telescopic sight was not sufficient to bring the point of impact to the aiming point. ... every time we changed the adjusting screws to move the crosshairs in the telescopic sight in one direction. screws to move the crosshairs in the telescopic sight in one direction it also affected the movement of the ... point of impact in the other direction." The defect in the sight was structural (3H405). So, "... we left the rifle (alone) as soon as it became stabilized and fired all of our shots with the point of impact actually high and to the right". Frazier did not know the nature of "the defect in the scope" but he had noticed a damage from which "the scope tube could have been bent or damaged" (3H406). After some experimentation, they learned that "you could take an aiming point low and to the left" and fire accurately (3H407). Such experimentation and adjustment were

"The Best Religion Is Communism"

Oswald reported for duty at the Marine Corps recruit depot in San Diego on October 26, 1956, and was assigned to the Second Training Battalion. There, he was given a series of aptitude tests and scored slightly below average. He was also trained in the use of the M-1 rifle.2 On December 21, 1956, after three weeks of training, he shot 212, two points over the score required for a "sharpshooter" qualification, the second highest in the Marine Corps. Such a score indicated that from the standing position, he could hit a ten-inch bull's-eye, from a minimum of 200 yards, eight times out of ten.4 Shortly before he left the Marine Corps, in May 1959, Oswald again certified himself on a firing range. Although he then had no motivation and his disgust for the Marines was high, he still managed to score 191, enough to qualify as a "marksman." Sgt. James Zahm, the NCO in charge of the marksmanship training unit, said, "In the Marine Corps he is a good shot, slightly above average . . . and as compared to the average male . . . throughout the United States, he is an excellent shot." **

Oswald left San Diego in January 1957, and through that summer he proceeded from an introductory course of instruction in aircraft s Biloxi, Mississippi. In a private first class and material.*

His progress in the M had already developed other men. Allen Felde both San Diego and Car who was not popular w most of them. Daniel called, "My first imprethe term, [a] 'loner.' "easily be-led," and "hi group against him." "as the frail little pur Ozzie Rabbit, because to escape, returning the city of New Orleans."

ment he had and his abilit marksmanship branch, sa difficult" and that, based of to make this shot."

*Oswald had the lowes low Marines believed he was merely a hunch and Committee on Assassina reviewing all relevant m higher clearance.

Powers was perhaps Oswald was homosexual called. Another Marine, thought he was gay. Although the was gay. Although several recall that while bar in Yamato, a club w California, Oswald once There, he took them to a that Oswald seemed to b

^{*}Harold Weisberg stated that "Oswald's marksmanship ... was poor ..."

Jim Garrison is merciless in his attack on Oswald's rifle ability, saying he was "terrible," a "notoriously poor shot," and had "an abysmal marksmanship record in the Marines." Yet those in charge of the marksmanship branch praised Oswald's ability and said he was easily capable of carrying out the JFK assassination. It "was an easy shot for a man with the equip-mer he proceeded from infantry training at Camp Pendleton to an introductory course on radar at Jacksonville, Florida, to basic instruction in aircraft surveillance at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi, Mississippi. In early May, he was routinely promoted to private first class and given a clearance to handle confidential material.

"The Best Religion Is Communism" = 21

His progress in the Marines appeared normal on paper, but he had already developed a reputation as an eccentric among the other men. Allen Felde, a fellow recruit who served with him at both San Diego and Camp Pendleton, said he was a "left-winger" who was not popular with the other recruits and was avoided by most of them. Daniel Powers, a senior Marine at Keesler, recalled, "My first impression . . . is that he was somewhat, to use the term, [a] 'loner.' "Powers thought he was "meek . . . could easily be led," and "his general personality would alienate the group against him." Other Marines unmercifully razzed him "as the frail little puppy in the litter," and he was nicknamed Ozzie Rabbit, because of his meekness. He used weekend passes to escape, returning the almost one hundred miles to his native city of New Orleans. 10 ment he had and his ability," said Sgt. Zahm. Major Eugene Anderson, of the marksmanship branch, said the assassination shots "were not particularly difficult" and that, based on his Marine record, "Oswald had full capabilities to make this shot."

*Oswald had the lowest-level security clearance, "confidential." Two fellow Marines believed he had a "secret" clearance, though they admitted it was merely a hunch and not based on direct knowledge. The House Select Committee on Assassinations investigated the question in the late 1970s, reviewing all relevant military files, and concluded Oswald did not have a higher clearance.

Powers was perhaps the first person, but certainly not the last, to think Oswald was homosexual. "He had a lot of feminine characteristics," he recalled. Another Marine, David Christie, stayed away from him because he thought he was gay. Although he seldom went to bars with other Marines, several recall that while stationed in Japan, Oswald visited a transvestite bar in Yamato, a club with which he seemed familiar. When stationed in California, Oswald once crossed with a group of Marines to Tijuana, Mexico. There, he took them to a run-down gay bar, the Flamingo. Several recalled that Oswald seemed to know the place and people.

510 = Notes

- 86. Ibid.
- 87. Ibid., p. 11.
- 88. WR, p. 384.
- Testimony of Marguerite Oswald, WC Vol. I, pp. 198, 200; Carro Exhibit 1, WC Vol XIX, p. 319; FBI report, December 18, 1963, of interview with Dr. Benjamin Powell (CD 189), CE 2240, WC Vol. XXV, p. 140.
- FBI report, November 26, 1963, reflecting affidavit of Palmer McBride (CD 75), CE 1386, WC Vol. XXII, pp. 251, 252.
- 91. Ibid., p. 252.
- 92. Ibid., p. 253.
- 93. Testimony of George de Mohrenschildt, WC Vol. IX, p. 247.
- Notes of interview of Lee Oswald conducted by Aline Mosby in Moscow, November 1959 (CD 352), CE 1385, WC Vol. XXII, p. 703.
- Copies of Lee Oswald's classification card, dated August 30, 1956, Fort Worth public schools, high school department, and Oswald's permanent high school record, Fort Worth public schools, Arlington Heights High School (CD 373), CE 1873 J, K, WC Vol. XXIII, pp. 671–73.
- 96. Testimony of Marguerite Oswald, WC Vol. I, p. 234.
- 97. CE 2240, p. 2.
- Testimony of Viola Peterman, WC Vol. VIII, p. 64; testimony of Dr. Renatus Hartogs, WC Vol. VIII, p. 223.
- 99. Testimony of Robert Oswald, WC Vol. I, pp. 375-76.
- 100. Testimony of Marguerite Oswald, WC Vol. I, p. 227.
- 101. CE 1385, p. 705.
- 102. Testimony of John Pic, WC Vol. XI, p. 4.
- 103. Oswald, op. cit., p. 57.

2 "THE BEST RELIGION IS COMMUNISM"

- 1. Folsom Exhibit 1, WC Vol. XIX, pp. 1, 7.
- 2. Testimony of Maj. Eugene Anderson, WC Vol. XI, p. 302.
- 3. Testimony of Lt. Col. Allison Folsom, WC Vol. VIII, p. 304.
- 4. Testimony of John E. Donovan, WC Vol. VIII, p. 296.
- 5. Testimony of Lt. Col. Allison Folsom, WC Vol. VIII, p. 304.
- Testimony of Sgt. James A. Zahm, WC Vol. XI, p. 308; see also Folsom, WC Vol. VIII, p. 305.
- 7. Folsom Exhibit 1, WC Vol. XIX, pp. 3, 36.
- FBI report, June 26, 1964, of interview with Allen R. Felde (CD 1229), CE 1962, WC Vol. XXIII, p. 3.
- 9. Testimony of Daniel Powers, WC Vol. VIII, p. 268.
- 10. Ibid., pp. 272-73.
- 11. Testimony of Kerry Thornley, WC Vol. XI, p. 106.