Have you trekked once too often from bookstore to bookstore combing the shelves for intriguing new titles in history or world affairs? Now you can find them all without leaving your reading chair. History Book Club stocks its shelves with top-notch, authoritative titles from historians such as Alan T. Nolan, Diane Ravitch, Albert Hourani and John Garraty. Nowhere else will you find such a wide range of selections intended for serious history readers like yourself.

Our exclusive newsletter keeps you posted on all the best books in history and world affairs

Your membership includes a free subscription to the Club's newsletter, the Review, which comes to you up to 17 times a year (about every 3 weeks). You'll find more than 150 books described and recommended in each issue. Each of your free copies of the Review is the culmination of what we believe to be the most exhaustive search and screening process in history publishing.

Each book that comes to your attention in our Review must first pass rigorous screening by authorities on that specific period. Whether you're interested in books on the ancient Near East, recent American presidents, the Civil capture your imagination and intellect.

War, the American West, World War II, or any other historical era, we offer you only the titles historians deem the most important, accurate and readable.

Choose the reading you want—pressure free

Each issue of the Review highlights one book in particular, the "Editors' Choice." If you agree that it merits your attention, simply do nothing. The book will come to you automatically. To order any of the other 150-plus titles, or no books at all, just use the Reply Form to tell us your instructions by the date specified. A shipping and handling charge is added to each shipment. You are never under an obligation to buy books. If you ever receive an "Editors' Choice" because you had less than 10 days to decide, and prefer not to keep it, you may return it and pay nothing.

More fine books for your home library

You'll be pleased to watch your history collection grow with the handsome clothbound editions the Club produces for you. Each quality book matches the exact size specifications of the bookstore copy. And each saves you up to 25% off the publisher's price.

Our Bonus Plan saves you even more

Our Bonus Plan, for which you're eligible immediately, makes every book we offer available at a low Bonus Price. Any book you buy (not including your initial enrollment selections) will earn you at least one Bonus Credit, and more with special offers. With 4 Bonus Credits, you can order a book at its Bonus Credit price... and save up to 65% off the publisher's price.
