8/4/93

Dear Gerald,

Thanks for the copy of your 4/22/92 letter covering the return of the pictures.

This time I'll be careful to not misfile it.

I'll be glad to get the clippings. I have already established a file, meaning that mostly I have a labelled file folder, for each of the coming books. Aside from the Dahlin 5/3 piece I've seen almost nothing save on McGinniss.

I'm sorry you did not want some devil's advocacy, from that story, because I believe it describes what is impossible in your book. And I am not talking about any "interpretations of evidence." Time will tell. If you had indicated you were doing that kind of book I'd have offered it.

And I could have helped you on Lifton. Came a time when I decided to reconstitute the memo that Livingstone' cop stole for Lifton. If you have any further interest on him Roger Feinman, a lawyer formerly with CBS News, did a short book I believe is fine. Only xerox copies now available. I think he has found no publisher. Has no agent.

Minor correction: I know in advance I'll disagree with virtually all who use my records. Thanks for what you say about it, though.

When you are promoting the book, if you have any good confrontations you'd like to have in the file I'll be making for history I'll be glad to add them without any comment on them. I'll probably annotate the copy of your book for that purpose, too.

If and when we can reschedule that dinner, fine. Be interest^{ed} in your experiences with the book then, too.

Lil joins me in best wishes to you both.

Sincerely,

Harold

Dear Harold,

I have received your July 28 letter. Enclosed is a copy of an April 2, 1992 letter I sent to you, together with the four Hall, Seymour and Roberts photos, as well as the J. W. Foster video. Maybe if you can locate the Foster video, it might lead you to the photos and my cover letter. Let me know what you find.

Of course I will ask my publisher to send you copies of whatever they do to promote the book. As for other books, I try to pick up clippings, and if you are patient, I will drop you a bunch of copies later in the season.

Trisha and I are also sorry we did not get back for Thanksgiving, but as you can imagine, there was no time last fall for socializing. I was totally immersed in the book and Trisha could not tear me away from the library. We'll just have to reschedule for a good dinner on our next visit to your neck of the woods.

One final item. Regarding the book, I know you will disagree with my conclusions, but I trust you will find it a serious and well-researched work, one which will allow us to debate fundamental differences over interpretations of evidence. However, you will also find much to agree with, especially regarding my discussions of work by Lane, Garrison, and Lifton. As you will note, in the acknowledgements, I thank you and Lil for allowing me and Trisha to have such open access to your files, most of which you fought to have released. As I inform the reader, your attitude to the sharing of information is both generous and refreshing, especially since you disagree with the conclusions of quite a few researchers who use your documents.

Looking forward to hearing from you after you see the book. In the meantime, I hope this note finds you in good health. Trisha sends her best regards to both you and Lil, as do I -

Sincerely,

Dear Harold,

I hope this letter finds you and Lil in good health and spirits. Enclosed are the four Hall, Seymour and Roberts photos as well as the J.W. Foster video that I borrowed from you during our last visit.

Trisha and I just returned from several weeks in Dallas and New Orleans. While I will drop you a more detailed letter in the near future, I just wanted to tell you that it went very well. Not only did I gather more information regarding Lane, but I also gathered good information on some of the modern day charlatans, especially those packaging Roscoe White stories, or Mortal Error tables. In addition, New Orleans was super. It may be old information to you, but I was surprised by the extent to which Garrison was totally out of control in his investigation.

I don't know when I will get a chance to get back to visit you, but I will call soon so we can at least talk on the phone.

Trisha sends her best regards to both you and Lil. Until our next conversation, I remain,

With best regards,

/s/
