Dear Gerald,

Who is probably on a treadmill from which you'll at some point return.

Write a play in US News!

But I did not get it so that when I read it I read it all, not a condensation.

I presume your publisher has been too busy to send books out because I have not yet gotten it.

Someone who had read it or was reading it asked me a couple of questions I hope you can find time for.

One is why you did not include Oswald in New Orleans in your bibliography. That was of interest because in one of several notes or places in the text you do not indicate sources.

That one was my use of Oswald's addressbook for those New Orleans addresses. From what he said you must have had a second source, the one that led you to the mistakes.

Then, my saying that at 15 Oswald was being "someone's agent." Did I?

The account of my being fired from the Senate committee he said is not sourced.

Did you get that from me?

As you could <sup>have</sup> whatever you said about my boxing Garrison in on his intent to charge Perrin and Bradley as grassy knoll ~~the~~ assassins. No source note, he said.

Your publisher has not yet sent me any of the promotional material I'd like to have for the file I'm making on the anniversary books for the historical record. You said you'd speak to him. Hope you will if you haven't.

The news on the release of those 800,000 records created an ideal situation for the appearance of your book.

Thus far I've not been asked by those I see about your book, but I also do not know that it has reached the local stores.

But almost everyone is asking about those records.

Three when I was having my blood tested this morning and two after that when I was doing my physical therapy on a Cybex UBE machine.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
