

March 17, 1967

To the Editor
News and Farmer
Preston, Maryland

Dear Sir:

Those nice comments and such straightforward expression make it easy to overcome the absence of a masthead in your paper.

It could only be Max Chambers!

Thank you very much, Max. Glad you find that "the book has an excellent index". I think it is the most exhaustive index I have ever seen, and it was done 100 percent by Delmarva's Ninth Queen, who also was the "typesetter" and proofreader down whose neck I breathed too hard on the second one (enclosed).

Again, thanks for your kindness and thoughtfulness.

Please give our best to those of our wonderful Eastern Shore friends you see.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg