

News 5/10/67

FBI Man, Cuba Exile Subpenaed

NEW ORLEANS, May 10 (UPI) — An FBI agent and a former Cuban exile leader were scheduled to appear before a grand jury today, presumably to talk about alleged connections Lee Harvey Oswald, President Kennedy's assassin, had with anti-Castro Cubans.

Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison, conducting an investigation into what he says was a plot to assassinate President Kennedy, subpenaed FBI Agent Regis Kennedy and Carlos Quiroga, 30, an associate of the former head of the Cuban Liberation Democratic Front in New Orleans.

Alvin R. Beaubouf, 21, of New Orleans denied yesterday that an investigator for Mr. Garrison had offered him a job or money in exchange for testifying falsely to substantiate Mr. Garrison's contention there was a conspiracy.

Mr. Beaubouf's denial was in an affidavit released by Mr. Garrison's office. The affidavit did not refer to the source of the allegation but it followed publication of an article in Newsweek magazine.

The article denounced Mr. Garrison's conspiracy plot as a "plot of Garrison's own making."

"Indeed, Garrison's tactics have been even more questionable than his case," Newsweek said.

Newsweek reporter Hugh Aynesworth said:

"I have evidence that one of the strapping D. A.'s investigators offered an unwilling "witness" $3000 and a job with an airline — if only he would "fill in the facts" of an alleged meeting to plot the death of the President.

"I also know that when the D. A.'s office learned that this entire bribery attempt had been tape-recorded, two of Garrison's men returned to the "witness" and, he says, threatened him with physical harm.