Dear Mr. Robinson,

If it is new I'll be interested- and surprised.

If it is not, I hope you will understand that I still work a very long day without being able to do everything I should and, having little time, try to avoid correspondence that will not advance the work.

I do hope you do have something new.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg

Dear Mr Weisberg:

Like you, I too work a very long day. I'm a writer, among other pursuits. What I want to tell you I hesitate to put into writing, and I do not have "facts".

But did you ever notice certain parallels between Watergate and Dallas? In the modus operandi, the aims, both being conceived to control the country by means of the Presidency. Both were anti-~~Catholic~~ Catholic. Liddy talks in vague terms of letting himself be assassinated "on the street corner" (if he fails in his mission) - expiation? guilt? And strangely enuf, ~~Whitman~~ the Kaztenjammer Kids of 1972 were found guilty of election frauds in California arising out of the 1962 election where Brown defeated Nixon handily.

Think about it. May I close with approval of anybody who like yourself devotes so much time and energy to trying to uncover term.
