Dear "ou.

On my lest return from New Orleans, I asked Stave Burton, who had by then begun to express misgivings about Hepburn, to prepare complete memos for me on all he knew about Hepburn and Rose.

theard from him today. He has been unwell and can work only a few hours a day. He has been working on the Hepburn memo. However, he feels that without authorization from you, he must regard enything he knows about Rose as a confidential office matter. Before putting this information on paper, he wants to know that you have no objection.

If, as I presume, you have no objection, will you please let him know immediately so that him return to classes will not delay him? I also should like to have this before I return to "ew Orleans, for there may k be some knowledge in it requiring further checking.

For you convenience, I am enclosing an extra copy of this letter, in the event you feel initialing it and sending it to him is okay.

Night before last I read Moo the brief comment Steve Jaffe had sent me on an Xmas card. In response I have also asked him for memos as complete as he can make them. If he is in touch with you by phone, I would appreciate your encouraging him to this as expeditiously as he can.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
