Dear Paul:

This is in receipt of your return of the documents I sent with my letter of June 16. Many thanks for their prompt return. That letter, which you accidentally mailed back to me with the documents, is enclosed.

When I wrote you last time I neglected to mention something in which you might be interested. I can get you an 8mm copy of the original Zapruder film, somewhere between 6th and 8th generation, for the cost of $10. If you are interested just let me know.

Also on the subject of films, Harold tells me that you are quite interested in a copy of Farewell America. If I latch onto one I will tell you, since I am still trying to get one.

I would be very grateful if you can locate documents which pertain to the individuals mentioned in my letters, but by no means feel obliged to. Also, regretably, there is little time pressure in this case, since, as you know, it is mostly a long hard pull which only a rare person like Harold has thus far lasted through from the beginning to the present.

Best wishes, and for the sake of a pleasant summer for you, I hope that those critical problems clear themselves up.

Warm regards,
