

3/26/77

Dear Paul,

Not so long ago I was asked if de Mohrenschildt had flipped out.

Farout, I said, but more I did not know.

Then I was asked about what I suppose is the story you sent today. Thanks for it.

Gels is able and bright but I fear more interested in what will wash than what will wear, not unusual in his business.

I read this story as you may perhaps not be able to, with some recollection of Oltman's interview with deM in the Garrison day.

If deM was in the booby-hatch that does not eliminate the questions about Oltmans and that interview.

These dark hints trouble me because if Oswald had been the assassin, which I do not believe, there was no way I can think of for deM to have known in advance.

Do I have to tell you, with your experiences, that life just is not that way? Of course not.

This appears to have been ignored outside of Dallas but I am glad to have the story and know what it said.

It is possible that I'll be done there in about a week or so.

No big deal - just to get affidavits on what is really public domain.

If I do I hope we can get together for a while. If I go I'll let you know.

Many thanks,