

Perry Russo 6/28/68, in Tom Bethell's office

To his knowledge Layton had several dates with Deyahn. His description is essentially the same as her's of the one on which they played monopoly. Perry feels that someone else arranged the dates. Layton ~~him~~ told him, as I recall, that D kept after him, but something gives Perry the feels that a third person brought them together. Layton hangs out La Casa, Perry saw him there several times. The girl over whom Layton allegedly stabbed Darryl night before last worked there for several years. Her name is Laurel. Sources place her in continuous employment until about a month ago from about 1965, possibly sooner. She had been going steady with Darryl for two years. A young man ~~took~~ tried to make time and couldn't. George H. told Barbara three weeks ago that Layton said he'd have to kill Darryl.

Perry's thinking on Layton's scar is that he cannot account for how Layton could afford it. While Layton had told him that his father was helping him, Perry believes the father does not have this kind of money. The payments were about $101 a month. He knows of only one job Layton had, part-time at the educational station, paying him $40 weekly. Layton would gamble with Perry and at rummy, in which P considers himself sort of professional, drop $35 nightly on several occasions. It is his feeling that Layton must have had other sources of income. On this, Barbara says that Jack Martin told her he is working for DJ, $200 weekly, and Layton now also is.

E.J.Darcy, gay, 27-35, married, runs "boot" lounge 5415 Magazine, "boy" friend Layton.

Thinks Layton takes out girls with whom he feels he need not make sex overtures or face need to. Think he took D out because hse is not pretty and it could be safe (ref to leg scars, thin, etc.) Nothing happens when he takes girls out.

L wanted to go with Wayne Gaarner, well-built pitcher, invited him to party at Rafferty's. P will have L at parties at his place but will not to go to those at Layton's because gays. Layton used to room with Rod Wagner, disk jockey, gay. To P, all indications L gay.

John George has called Perry several times lately.

The girls with whom Layton has ~~be~~ gone are known to be frigid. Charlotte Dickinson, who just won't lay, and the boys in that circle have tried hard, 242-1791, Gentilly Road. He goes with her, also Maria Kassaris, 4900 Magazine, "Pocahantas, works Howard, Weill, Labouisse & Frederichs, stock brokers, One of these girls is known as "North Wind", she is so cold. One of the cocksman got one of these girls in bed, undressed, and in four hours could not lay. They have bets, sort of a pool, on who can make it with the frigids (Perry has a sideline on printing pornographic pictures. He says he has quite a collection, including Sandra. Of Sandra, he quotes Layton as having told him Sandra was at Ferrie's in 1963.

Perry's cousin says he and Perry saw O's literature distribution and that Perry took a leaflet. P has habit stuffing papers in books. This is how Pete. C. saw one his place BR.

Ferrie told him of having made flights to Cuba. Oswald wore heavy leather boots, like combat and dressed like the rest of those wearing fatigues. Perry thinks this nucleus Ferrie's CAP boys, but few Latins included.

When Kerry Thornley got in his cab at T-P, it was this way: Perry had had radio call. Waited 10 minutes, no fare showed. Woman opened cab, got in with man. Then she asked if he were not PR, and he recognized her as Lane Caplinger, who he had dated. He took them to 7-800 block Barracks, where K said lawyer was. He did not pangandle or poor mouth, merely said when they asked why he was cabbing, that he couldn't make it in insurance. Thornley said Garrison was right but wrong on him.

Sheridan told Perry they had "gotten one of big three in Garrison's office" (when trying to swing Perry). Also, "we've got a key witness" He thinks they meant Andrews. Told him to make something up that would wreck Garrison and that they'd be able to get him off that way. This is the Gene Davis part, where P thinks they, not Dean, selected Gene. Townley said that WDSU had gotten orders and they gave him orders. If they broke Garrison he'd get net job. He said he wasn't doing this for principle only selfish, career reasons.

Can't remember name of man who is brought to mind by "Ricardo", but knew step son who when about 12, perhaps 5 years ago, went weekly with father to Air-line Hiway ~~mini~~ motel for Cuban meetings where money changed hands.
