Dear Karen,

Thanks for the try on Ober. We'll have to let that rest for now.

Glad the fire didn't hurt you or others. The old buildings do go that way.

What was the CIA book you read? Ought I to see which of their publishers I was to with Whitewash? Esp. if I am going to sue them?

I've been even busier lately on other projects, meaning also getting farther behind. The one of which I can talk that may interest you is that in response to my sworn charge that the FBI had sworn falsely in telling the court it had delivered in full in the new suit when it hadn't they actually filed a paper in which they said that I could probably make such charges ad infinitum because I know more about the subject than ~~xxxx~~ anyone in the FBI.

They intended it as an out, not praise.

Can you undertake another obituary check for me, please? In the NYTimes.

There is a former CIA agent named Herman Kimsey. (Bare chance [^]insey or another variant.) I know he was dead in 1971. Can you work back from there and see what you can come up with, please?

Thanks.

Best to you both,
