ly simple. IN JANUARY'S issue of Vanity Fair, I wrote the saga of how JFK used his young lover Judith Campbell to carry money and messages to Sam Giancana. Yet many naysayers still question Judith's veracity and scoff when she says that Kennedy felt she was a "safe" con-duit to Sam. But A&E makes it all inescapably logical. The Kennedys tapped the mob to assassinate Fidel Castro, promising to give the Mafia back its Cuban casinos when the Communist leader was climinated. Giancana did everything to get Jack Kennedy elected by a mere 9,000 votes in Chicago. Then Giancana felt he had JFK in his pocket. The CIA (via Robert Maheu, who appears on the "Biography" special) made the govern-ment's offer to Chicago's Giancana, Ve-gas' Johnny Rosselli, and the underworld kingpins of Louisiana and Florida.

The president, uncertain of the CIA, then used Judith Campbell, first to take money to the mob, and then to carry his own personal "kill Cas-tro" messages to Giancana. The CIA helped Cuban exiles invade Cuba, promising them air cover. JFK, thinking the CIA incompetent, feeling they had goofed, called off the air support. The Cuban patriots died on Cuban beaches.

Bobby Kennedy, the attorney gener-al, knew perfectly well that JFK was sending messages to Giancana via Judith. But he had hated the Mafia for years and despised the union king Jimmy Hoffa, whose Teamster money had built the casinos of Vegas for the mob. When Bobby went after Hoffa and the Mafia, he stirred up an embittered Giancana. Having the president "in his pocket" had not paid off. (Giancana's personal feelings for Judith may also have added to his hatred of the Kennedys.) So the Mafia arranged for its New Orleans branch to set up the murder of the 35th president in Dallas. Members firmed. But it may take a little more time.
