Dear David,

Please keep the enclosed letter to Harry confidential. I decided not to ignore his imperial demands or his sick, very sick manuscript, ^{chapters} and to send you a copy for your information. Please do not tell Rakk, either, particularly not that Harry calls Rakk his chief investigator. This just sprang off the page when I thumbed through the stapled chapters. I've read only what I refer to.

At this point I got a call from the office of the chief of corneal surgery at Hopkins, Dr. Stark. I'd asked if he could see me when I'll be there on the 18th. He'll be out of the country. I see him the 30th. The better ~~the~~ eye is a real worry as ~~that~~ I'll explain when we are together again. Meanwhile, Lil's progress has been so fantastic the physical therapist discharged her yesterday. She sees the orthopaedic doctor next week.

Harry can be a wild man and I don't like to anger him. But if I were not honest I'd be hurting him and I do have to get rid of the enormous amount of time he takes usually on terrible stuff. I have no idea where he gets some of what I comment on but there is no good source on King stuff other than the dated frameup. and records he hasn't seen.

Lil has been clipping Keys stories for you and the boys and we'll enclose those stories. If they do not include it, the Keys set a new Carolina league attendance record, highest in any Class A league ever except for one year in the 1940s, at Denver. They did have many injuries and most of last year's best moved up. And the Keys did poorly setting this record. Some fans, huh?

Hope you all can get here soon. We've tried another of Hana's dishes and recommend it. What they serve in the hot cast-iron bowl you may have seen. They continue to be fine to us. There last evening to celebrate Lil's good news.

If you didn't follow him, last year's Key, Rhodes, brought up ^{by the Os} from Hagerstown where he was fine, was very, very nervous and did poorly. Up to fast, I guess.

Rolling Stone is doing a JFK assassination article. Writer to be here tomorrow. I think they'll go into Stone but do not know from the phone call.

Best to you all,

Harry
