

Resumed 3/7

So far today the phone has been quite, a break that lets me catch up on a few things.

After I wrote you yesterday a friend, the woman who reported Harry and Richard to the police, read me a section of the Maryland code. It seems to me that Harry can have a criminal case filed against him.

And with Harry confirming to Crouch his belief that Richard did steal my Lifton records and sold them to Lifton, I hope Richard will do what he can to get them back and not have that to face.

I am sorry for him. He was so stupid! And unthinking after repeated warnings.

And it puts you in an awkward position, too.
