Enclosed are a clipping and at least one carbon of a letter to Paul (I ~~may~~ have more before I mail this). The trip to San Francisco in June is looking certain and I am excited about it. I am getting progressively more involved with the idea of changing the traditional health and emotional care delivery system. Smith's book LOVE NEEDS CARE speaks to that point eloquently.

The clipping is about a kid who grew up on the same block when I was in HS. He is now an FBI agent as the clipping indicates. He was totally lambrained and could be nothing less than incompetent. This is the first time someone I knew became an agent (there are probably others, but I don't know for certain that they are agents). Terrance McLaughlin is for sure.

It looks like I will be addressing the Minnesota BAR Association in June. The older lawyers and judges got uptight about the young lawyers sponsoring a quickie speech at night in a renegade fashion and so decided to have it as part of the program and give me 2 hrs. It should be fund.

I am trying to push your book among alwyers. I spoke with a group of people put together by Doug Heidenreich, Dean of the Mitchell School of Law, which has Justices Blackmun and Burger on its board. He is ordering one for himself right now. The Enclosed packet of items, which deal with the indicent in which David Lykken, one of the pprofs I worked under, was arrested along with 19 party guests for running a disorderly house. 19 cops came in without knocking, took their personal papers and letters, because they were asking for 50¢ contribution for the beer to collection money to fight the development of ABM sites in N. Dakota. If you don't have time to read the resolution, at least read the last items in the packet--his letters to the editor.

Well, Id' better close now. Best wishes.

Gary

PS. Any chance your publishers could send a copy of the book to Mike Masterman? He could publicize it. He's now at: 11 Quennevais Parade, St. Brelade, Jersey, Channel Islands, Great Britain
