Dear Slowpoke,

Thanks for the clippings. I finally got a copy of the Lagniappe interview you said you were sending me more than a month ago from someone in Texas who'd been sent a copy. I was not aware that Rosemary James had taken after Stone or that he'd replied. Nor that she believed there had been a conspiracy to kill JFK.

By the way, there is a Jack Wardlaw who is in charge of news for Baltimore's Channel 2. Did they break up? Or is this a different man of the same name? He's been there for some time and I've often wondered.

Stone, as usually, was economical with fact and truth- downright stingy! If you have an address for her, please give it to me and I'll write her.

Stone is full of what he stays full of in referring to the drivel he wrote for the Washington Post as a point-by-point refutation. After it appeared I wrote him again and again at some length in what was a point-by-point destruction of what he'd written.

Last week I got a snotty letter from his mouse of a "research coordinator" and I think that by now she'll have learned that in some ways some old people just don't get too old.

I've what to me is a funny story to tell you that I ask you to keep in confidence unless Alcock is interested. What Stone originally wrote the Post was so bad he himself decided it had to be changed and the Post agreed. Among the long shadows of the tall man was his booboo that four people saw Oswald on the second floor immediately after the assassination. One of them according to Stone, was Barbara Reid! What Jim had in mind in helping Stone respond, and Stone had to abandon what he'd suggested is Mrs. Robert A. Reid.

Be thankful that Rosemary did not include you in those she named.

I do appreciate the clippings, I'd appreciate them more if they came faster, and with the paper and date, which is what history also wants.

Interest has not slacked off. I heard from Dave Snyder last week, an independent TV producer and CNN. So the more Stone says the more I like it and want to know.

He is a big man, with a big appetite, so he should have lots and lots of words to ~~eat~~ eat. Especially his own. I've got a spoon, too, and I'd like to use it more!

Lil says hi! and it would be nice to see you if you ever get up this way.

We finally made it after all these years! last week we both had to use canes!

Thanks and best,

Alcock
