

29 July 1973

Dear Harold:

Late last week I finally got through to Peter Dale Scott. He claims the only reference he has to Nixon representing the Cuban rebanchists comes from Bill Turner's book, Power On The Right, P156, something in 1963 where Nixon apparently represented a man named Kohly at an arraignment. He said he would xerox a copy and send it to you that same day. I got his address and forwarded to him the carbon copy of your letter to him that you tried to send through Lesar.

If you need to write him direct, he lives at 2823 Ashby Ave., Berkeley, 94705. His home phone is 848 2924, office 642 2456.

-----

Recently we sent you a clipping from the Sunday Examiner, July 15, "Committee Asks 55 White House Files." Noticed only later that it talks of the Fielding breakin * in terms of both office and apartment. The apartment seems new, and we thought you'd like to know about it if you hadn't caught it yourself. This is the only reference to the apartment we've seen, and there'es no indication whether its a separate job or whether the apartment ~~was~~ was in the same building with the office.

Best,

jdw