Dear Ms. McGrory,

In addition to what I say in the enclosed letter to the editor, at least two of the Secret Service agents who did not keep John Kennedy alive suffered the most severe psychiatric reactions. One Clint Hill, almost lost his life and he did save Jackie. Another is in a nursing home with the most severe psychiatric problems and ~~behind the scenes~~ ~~the most~~ ~~impossible~~ ~~and~~ ~~outrageous~~ ~~allegations~~ were made against him in a book which said he had killed the President by accident. I provided him and his family with counsel, rather referred them to my FOIA lawyer and friend, who I knew without speaking to him, would do all he could, and he did get a public apology and some money from St. Martins.

li'l stay there. The most impossible and outrageious

All the people who make threats do not mean them and all the threats do not come to the attention of the authorities, but there was a number of threats against Kennedy when he was killed and I can remember what amounted to incitations against FDR by those who included the Starrs of that era.

But there is no way of knowing and there should be ^{no} unnecessary risk for those whose lives are always at risk.

As a record for history I wrote a book-length manuscript disproving the foul commercialization and exploitation that blamed the assassination on a Secret Service agent in the follow-up car.

If there is another attempt on a president all those who are trying to make political capital of this one should be held to account. Including the sanctimonious Hatch, who has already established himself as a partisan of there is an attempt to impeach and if there is, should be required to disqualify himself.

Thanks for the fairness of your today's column. When I saw your friend Russert passing that stuff off as news he looked a though he had just won a Pulitzer!

A Judge Johnson story that, if used, could let her pinpoint my source, shows how uninformed she is. There was a lawsuit for James Angleton's records. She asked,

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg

"Why don't you just ask him for them?" More than a decade after his death!"
She might take it out on my source if he is before her again.
