

TEMPLE SINAI
Lakeside Drive
Stamford, Connecticut 06903

Office of the Rabbi
(203) 322-1649

SAMUEL M. SILVER, D. D.

19 Nov. 1975

Dear Harold,

I saw the plug
Jack Anderson gave you.

But then I was astonished that Time Magazine didn't mention
you in their rundown of the Dallas thing.

Do you have answers to Time-to the answers they gave in their article?

If so, I'd love to see them.

I wrote you before about the possibility of your coming here. Would you consider it?

Regards.

Yours,

Dear Sam, the reverse side explains one of my newer limitations. Another is the fantastic response to my mailing on the end book (copy enclosed). Lil and I have to do all the packaging and shipping, I with my legs propped up and my lap as a work table. Still another is that I have a contract with a lecture bureau, Program Corp. of Amer., 234 N. Central Ave., Hartsdale, N.Y. 10530. What travel the doctor permits I have to restrict to this, what the bureau arranges. It also provides my only income. (The charge $1,000 plus expenses and I get $750, which is slight considering the amount of work required for 12 years to get me to where I can say what I do.) I'd love to see you again after all these years, meet your family, none of whom I've ever met, but I can't unless I can travel and this is the only way I can. The cost of the work has been bankrupting. However, I will leave an incredible archive for the future. You never read of it because the major media, which failed so miserably, restricts itself to the insane and foolish...~~XXXX~~ I'd be delighted if some group in Stamford would arrange for me to speak and I'd like also to remain past the night of the speech or get there much earlier if it can be arranged so we might spend some time together. Should you see a way of doing this I'll have and show the most Byzantine records you have ever heard of plus the movies of JFK being killed should that be desired in addition to talking. I have made more use of the Freedom of Information law than anyone else. Congress amended it in part over one of my suits...For the immediate future when I travel I have to arrange to be driven to the train or airport and on long walks or if they are frequent use a wheelchair. I have just returned from a debate at Vanderbilt with a real Judenrat. My left foot swelled so I couldn't get a shot on, the airline backloaded me before they let anyone on the plane and had a wheelchair awaiting the plane, on their initiative, when it landed at Washington. But I can travel if I'm careful and based on this experience the doctor has applied new strictures as above. That I write you when I have to keep my leg higher than my buttocks and with more than two dozen letters dealing with orders stacked up please take as an indication that I would dearly love a reunion but that I also have to live within the limitations the last decade imposes on me. Our best,