

Prophecy In 1956

WASHINGTON — (Special) — An amateur socialist, who predicted in 1956 that a Democrat would win the 1960 presidential election and be assassinated in office, said here today she tried desperately to warn President Kennedy.

Mrs. Jean Dixon said: "I knew it would happen on his trip to Texas."

Her original prophecy was printed in Parade magazine in 1956 and is quoted in a book by Jess Stearn — Door To The Future.

A wealthy psychic, Mrs. Dixon said today: "In 1960 I told a friend, Mrs. Mildred Dayton, President Kennedy would die violently in 1963.

"Since Sunday I have seen a black cloud coming down around the White House.

"I knew something terrible was going to happen.

"Earlier this week I told several people: 'Dear God, the President is going to be shot.'"

Assassination

Strike Truce

TOLEDO, OHIO—(AP)—Toledo Newspaper Guild Local 43 agreed Friday night to call a truce in its week-old strike against the Toledo Blade Co. so this metropolitan area of 500,000 would not be without newspapers in the wake of President Kennedy's assassination.

of President Kennedy and became an eyewitness to history.

Here is his story:

"The crowds had thinned out where I stood so I had a good position near the Trade Mart when the President's motorcade rolled up.

"I suddenly heard a sharp crack and I thought someone was letting off firecrackers.

PRESIDENT SHOT

"I turned and looked in the direction of the noise when somebody shouted 'The President's been shot.

"I looked back at the car and a Secret Service man ran up with his gun drawn.

"Then another shot rang out and almost immediately a third.

"I was still starting at the car.

"The Secret Service man opened the car door and I saw the President slumped to the floor and falling towards the pavement.

"Jackie Kennedy was sitting on the left side of the car. Governor Connally on the President's right.

"I could see the hole in the President's left temple and his head and hair were bathed in blood.

"The Secret Service man looked in and gasped 'Oh, my God, he's dead.'"
