Dear Mr. Weisberg:

You probably don't remember my name. I met you around July sixth in the National Archives. You helped me with some research on the Warren Commission, and gave us a lead on the Zaprudia showing. I was hoping to talk to you the morning of the showing, but you weren't there. In the first place, I didn't tell you the total truth about my research in the Archives. I'm not working on a Master's thesis. I was doing research, but only because of my personal interest. The reason why I didn't tell you this was that I didn't know who you were until later, and I was afraid that I'd get kicked out of the Archives if I wasn't doing "legitimate" research. Besides that, your tips were extremely valuable, and we followed them up as far as our limited time allowed us.

The other thing I wanted to tell you is that if your speaking trip to Berkeley materializes, let me know if there is anything I could do to help you. If you want to make the trip as inexpensive as possible, I'd be glad to loan you my apartment so you won't have to pay for a Hotel. And even if your expenses are being paid you could still save $10 or $15 by keeping the money for the hotel and staying in the apartment. But it's entirely up to you. Whatever will get your information to the most people at the least cost is best, and I'll do my best to help you in whatever way possible.

Under any conditions, I will certainly hear your speech and hope to talk with you while you're in town. If I can be of any help to you after September 20th, write me in Berkeley at: 1810 Euclid Ave

Apartment 8; Berkeley 9, California.

I'm presently engaged in reading Whitewash. I still have to get the Lane and Epstein books, but you present as impressive and as sound an argument as I've heard yet. All the friends and relatives who have read my copy have been praised it highly.

Sincerely yours,

Ted Siminoski
